Fetal monitor system presented

Official presentation of Missouri Delta Community Hospital's new fetal monitor system was made this morning by representatives of organizations which contributed funds to purchase the unit. Participating, from left, are P. J. Schlosser and Floyd "Bud" Brown, Sikeston Knights of Columbus; Don Pratt, Sikeston Kiwanis Club; Dr. Thomas Waltrip; Margaret Houseman, obstetrics supervisor; Father Richard Rolwing of Oran, Knights of Columbus; state chaplain; Hillary Schmittzehe, Cape Girardeau, Knights of Columbus state deputy; Harold Jones, hospital administrator; Charles Heuring, Oran Knights of Columbus; Louise Miller, March of Dimes; Joseph Carr, Charleston Knight of Columbus; Lawrence J. Seyer, Oran Knights of Columbus; Geraldine Schlosser, Sikeston Daughters of Isabella; Dr. Leandro Cejas; Mrs. Katherine Smith, Sikeston Daughters of Isabella; and Mrs. Mildred Gallagher, director of nursing. The fetal unit (inset) is attached to the expectant mother before or during labor to check the heart rate of the unborn child. Another unit, being shown by Dr. Cejas, is at the nurse's station and provides information about the fetus at a glance.

Ford says he will encourage jobs that pay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Ford got a warm welcome to Ohio's biggest campus today where he told 2,500 members of a graduating class that his administration will help young people "get a job that makes sense as well as money."

Ford was applauded frequently by some 10,000 Ohio State seniors, relatives and friends attending the graduation ceremony in the school's basketball fieldhouse.

The only signs of dissent were placards critical of the nation's Cyprus policy, held up by a handful of demonstrators outside the hall.

Speaking at summer commencement exercises, Ford said too many college graduates find a lack of job opportunities for their skills and, after further study and the acquisition of new talents, are told they are overqualified for employment.

"Although this administration will not make promises it cannot keep," he said, "I do want to pledge one thing to you here and now: I will do everything in my power to bring education and employers together in a new climate of credibility — an atmosphere in which universities turn scholars out and employers turn them on."

Ford said the Labor Department soon will announce a new program of grants to state and local governments "to provide data on occupations available and to help channel potential employes into positions which are not only personally satisfying but financially rewarding."

He also said he has asked the secretaries of labor and of health, education and welfare to report to him on "new ways to bring the world of work and the institutions of education closer together."

Ford said "skills and intellect must harmonize so that the wheels of industry not only hum but sing."

Ford said he will ask Congress next year to extend hiring laws dealing with both vocational and higher education.

"Both are essential," he said, "because we need new jobs and new skills."

Speaking of the major economic problems facing his audience and the rest of the country, The President said:

"We must make extraordinary efforts to supply our know-how, our capital, our technology and our human resources to increase productivity at a faster pace. Inflation is creating a national state of anxiety. Productivity must improve if we are to have a less inflationary economy. In the long run, it is the only way we can raise wages without inflationary price increases."

3 cars damaged in chase as police pursue suspect

Joe Garrett, 21, of Bell City Route One was being held without bond in city jail this morning after he was arrested following a high speed chase through town Thursday night that ended when police officers shot out the tires on his car.

During the chase two police cars were damaged when one struck the other, and a private car driven by an off-duty policeman was damaged when it was struck in the side by Garrett's car.

Police said the chase began shortly before 10 p.m. Thursday when Garrett was seen allegedly trying to break into an apartment at 241 W. Kathleen Ave.

During the chase Garrett's car struck a car driven by off-duty officer Charles Sherrard at the corner of New Madrid Street and Malone Ave. Sherrard was southbound on New Madrid when Garrett's car, traveling at high speed and without lights, came around the corner and struck Sherrard's car.

Sherrard jumped out and fired his revolver twice at Garrett's car.

The shots ricocheted off the car and one went through a window at the Sterling store.

Later in the chase a squad car driven by officer Gary Brown struck an unmarked

Pemiscot authorities search for body of stabbing victim

CARUTHERSVILLE — The Pemiscot County sheriff's department is trying to locate the body of a man believed to have been stabbed to death on Aug. 23, according to Sheriff Thad O. Shelly.

Shelly said the search began after Sam Ballard, 22, of Caruthersville came to the sheriff's office and said he had killed a man who helped rob him of $85.

According to Shelly, Ballard's clothing was bloody and he had a long, blood-stained knife he said he had used to stab his assailant, one of three men who offered him a ride across town at midnight.

During the scuffle in the car, Ballard said the other men took his money and fled in a 1960 Cadillac with Illinois license plates.

"The man convinced us that he was in trouble and had stabbed a colored man, but we have not been able to come up with any thing," Shelly said.

The sheriff said the car the men fled in has not been located and a check of every hospital in Southeast Missouri has failed to locate a black man who was treated for serious injury.

"From the description that Ballard gave us, the man would have to be dead or seriously injured," Shelly said.

According to the sheriff, Ballard was not injured and no charges have been filed against him at the present time.

"This is a very strange case... but we will continue our investigation," Shelly remarked.

Center given grant

The Sikeston Child Development Center has been approved for the special food services program by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, according to Mrs. Keith Collins, administrator.

The program provides meals for children from low-income families whose parents work or take vocational training. The center is located at the Lincoln School building, 229 Westgate St.

Judge Marshall Craig, chairman of the development center, said the grant will save the center about $1,200 annually.

Any low- income mother who must be away from home during the day because of work or vocational training may apply for the free day care and child development at the center.

Mrs. Collins said the center currently has a waiting list but some enrollment changes will be made with the beginning of public school kindergarten.

The center offers a complete curriculum of educational, physical and social activities for 3 and 4-year- olds from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on week days, she said.

The center is in its sixth year of operation.

Morehouse man kills himself

MOREHOUSE — Suicide, by a self- inflicted gunshot wound, caused the death of Ellis Newton Agee, 58, of 309 Benton St. sometime between 3:30 and 6 a.m. today, according to New Madrid County Probate Judge John R. Bailey, acting coroner during the absence of Coroner Gene Clayton and illness of Sheriff W. L. "Cowboy" Ramsey.

Judge Bailey said Agee apparently shot himself once in the right temple with a .22- caliber automatic pistol, and the bullet exited through the left temple.

Agee's body was discovered by his wife on the floor of a room in the back of the house. The gun was found near his feet.

Judge Bailey said Mrs. Agee stated she did not hear the shot fired and began a search for her husband when she awoke and he was not in bed. She reported she knew

Accidents injure 6

Six persons suffered minor injuries in two area traffic accidents Thursday, the highway patrol announced today.

Four persons were hurt at 7:40 a.m. Thursday on Highway 61 north of Longtown when a northbound car driven by Marvin Martin Schmidt, 46, of Frohna collided with a car driven south by Arnold Leo Roth, 51, of Altenburg.

Both drivers and Gerald Albert Burroughs, 34, of Altenburg, a passenger in the Schmidt vehicle, and Gilbert C. Miesner, 59, of Wittenberg, a passenger in the Roth car, were treated for minor injuries at Perry County Hospital in Perryville.

Hershel James Ledbetter, 43, of Essex suffered minor injuries at 10:40 a.m. Thursday two miles east of Dexter at an intersection on a gravel road when his eastbound pickup truck struck the right side of a car driven south by Fearl Euris Isaacs, 55, of Morley who also received minor injuries.

Both were taken to Dexter Memorial Hospital.

Sloan arrested after escape

Jimmy Sloan, 24, of Route Two was arrested at 9:45 p.m. Thursday, three hours after he escaped from the city jail.

Sloan had been arrested earlier Thursday for forgery. About 6:45 p.m., he was allowed to go to the telephone to make a call. When he got to the phone, he bolted up the stairs and out the door.

He was arrested three hours later at Red's Tavern, 109 W. Malone Ave.

Police announced one other arrest. Inez Ethel Johnson, 104 Fifth St., was cited for failure to obtain a city sticker.

Burglars hit 2 homes

BLOOMFIELD — Two Dexter burglaries and an Advance break-in were reported Thursday afternoon to the Stoddard County sheriff's department.

The Terry Randall home, located north of Dexter, was burglarized sometime Thursday afternoon while the Randalls were away for a short time.

Taken in the burglary were a tool box, guitar, rug, vacuum cleaner, arrows, gloves, two throw- type pillows and a sleeping bag.

A side window had been pried open.

A coin collection and jewelry were taken sometime Thursday from the home of Martha Ragsdale south of Dexter.

Sheriff Ralph Mouser said the thieves apparently took the time to separate the more expensive jewelry from costume jewelry. He said Mrs. Ragsdale kept the more expensive pieces mixed in with the costume jewelry, which was left behind.

He said the latch had been broken on the back door.

The State Highway Department shed located south of Advance was also broken into sometime Thursday. However, nothing was discovered missing. Entry was gained by cutting the lock with bolt cutters.

Automatic, tape are stolen

A tape and a .22-caliber automatic pistol were taken from a truck belonging to Lyman Dame, 116 N. Kinghighway, sometime Wednesday night or Thursday morning, according to police.

No value was given for the items.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

If you engage in something wrong, and are not whipped for it, how bold you become in following your wrong course.

As we observe Labor Day 1974 on the first Monday of September, it is in honor of this nation's working men and women.

What bothers us, at times, is that some of our young people may not know that every great man has had to work hard to achieve greatness. Success is not handed to anyone on a silver platter.

In recent years, unfortunately, it has become fashionable to do as little as possible for as much as possible. This was not the old American philosophy, which held that work itself was rewarding, even necessary for the full enjoyment of life.

America became a great nation because its people believed that, if a job was worth doing, it was worth doing well; that a man's diligence, his price in performance, and his dedication to work were all qualities of character greatly to be admired.

There is a moral to be drawn. One writer puts it, "He who would leave footprints in the sands of time will have to wear work shoes."

LABOR DAY, 1974

There is a scent of change in the wind with the arrival of Labor Day. For Americans, the last golden moments of this final three- day summer holiday barely fade into memory when Autumn moves in, turning our thoughts away from watermelon, tennis and the like.

Suddenly, it is time to head back to school, and a new whirl of sports and homework fill the evenings. As the youngsters tackle the classroom with renewed vigor, the adults will hopefully head into the season with a sense of rededication to the principles of good, honest work. Today, as during the first commemoration of Labor Day in 1882, the importance of the working man and woman's efforts deserve recognition. Their hard work makes a high standard of living a reality for their families and country.

Labor Day, September 2, 1974, can be a day of new beginnings for all of us. How we respond to the challenges around us will decide how successful we are in attaining our goals -- whether educational or career-oriented.

I hope that when it comes time to holding the meeting in Southeast Missouri to explain what the committee arrives at that it is held in Sikeston instead of Cape Girardeau because there are more people in the Bootheel area of Southeast Missouri than there is in North Cape Girardeau.

OIL STILL A GOOD BUY

According to an article in Oil and Gas Journal, crude oil and natural gas are still good buys in today's marketplace. To prove it, a geologist in Texas roamed the aisles of local stores and computed the per- gallon cost of a number of common items. For instance:

100-proof "Old Confidence" — $30 a gallon; baby lotion — $7.92; orange juice — $1.85; milk — $1.65; honey — $1; laundry bleach — $.58; distilled water — $.49.

By comparison, crude oil is officially price- control at 12½ cents a gallon and natural gas (with its heating value converted to crude oil equivalent) is 3 cents a gallon.

It sure is lucky that we don't have to heat the house with baby lotion or run the family jalopy on orange juice.

CIVIL RIGHTS GETS 'OVER THE HUMP'

Because she happened to be listed first in a civil rights suit filed by 32 other plaintiffs in Topeka, Kan., Linda Brown's name was to become a household word in America in the mid-1950s.

It was on May 17, 1954, that the U. S. Supreme Court handed down its unamimous and historic decision in Brown vs. Board of Education, ruling that "in the field of education the doctrine of 'separate but equal' has no place. Separate educational facilities are inherently unequal."

Twenty years after Linda Brown won the right not to have to walk six blocks to catch a bus to take her another 15 blocks to an all-black elementary school, Topeka, as well as other cities in the nation, is again in trouble with the courts and the government precisely because of this hard-won right of black children to attend the schools nearest their homes — and again because such schools are usually all black.

The issue now is not that of busing to preserve segregation but busing to promote integration.

Not everyone considers this to be progress.

The persistence of "de facto" segregation resulting from the nation's housing patterns, as distinguished from the "de jure" segregation that has been abolished from the law, is only one of the things blacks point to as evidence that they are still far from achieving first- class citizenship.

Despite tremendous civil rights gains by blacks in the past two decades, many of them exist on paper only. In practice, true equality is still a long way off.

It is difficult to measure the actual state of racial progress in America today. In the field of school desegregation, the South now leads the nation with approximately half of its black students attending predominately white schools. The national figure is only about 36 per cent. Yet along the way, many black educators in the South lost their jobs with the closing of black schools, and they were not hired by white schools.

Statistics show blacks continuing to lag in such categories as income, years of schooling completed and representation in the professions, and to lead in others like unemployment and substandard housing — while at the same time showing significant improvement in all these areas.

It is, in some ways, a matter of whether one views the cup of civil rights as half full or half empty, whether one sees the level as stagnant or falling or rising, and, if rising, how fast one believes it ought to be rising.

Perhaps the best measure of civil rights progress in America is the change in peoples' attitudes in the past 20 years, for it is on this that all future progress will depend.

Today, none but a tiny core of fanatics still preaches the inherent inferiority of blacks. Prejudice and discrimination exist, and p robably always will exist to some degree. But the vast majority of white Americans supports, at least passively, the ideal of equality. And in the light of four centuries of black- white relations in America, that is progress.

If the majority remains oblivious to the very real inequality that still prevails, it is not necessary due to conscious prejudice but because most whites honestly believe that court decisions like Brown vs. Board of Education have solved the problem.

This, of course, puts the burden of continued progress on blacks. But that, fairly or unfairly, is where it has always been.

To paraphrase Jefferson, the price of equality is eternal struggle. Black Americans today continue to struggle, and if they have not yet won everything, they have in the past 20 years won the major victories.

DIFFICULT TO BELIEVE THIS

Advocates of raising the legal interest rate maximum in Missouri to more than the present 82 claim that it will revive the building and construction industry, the purchase of old or new homes, etc, etc, etc.

This is difficult to believe in view of conditions in other states where the interest rate has been rasied. They continue to be in the same building and buying doldrums as Missouri.

It seems to come down to this:

Those who have the money want the rate raised.

Those who have not the money and need to borrow some, can't afford the higher rates that would result, and they don't want higher rates.

The outcry of the money lenders seems to us to largely parallel that of the oil companies, who held their products off the market and created a shortage -- until they got higher prices, and greater profits.

POISONING PEOPLE'S CAPITALISM

After World War II, the expression "people's capitalism" was frequently used to describe the fundamental nature of the American system -- a system in which a great "middle class" of American citizens provided the investment dollars to build the backbone of U. S. productivity.

The average Americans became a major source of the investment capital that developed new industries, expanded old ones and contributed to a steadily rising standard of living.

Millions of people came to own bonds and shares of stock in the oil industry, the utility industry, the transportation industry, and all the other enterprises that provide the employment, products and services that make the United States what it is today.

Not long ago, Robert Sobel, writing in a dispatch of the Los Angeles Times - Washington Post Service, discussed how the decline in the stock market of the last year or so affects 31 million Americans -- and how ultimately the country will be affected.

He observed: "Twenty years ago the talk at cocktail parties was of dividends and 'sound common stocks.' Ten years later one heard much of new issues, growth situations and developing technologies, of small companies started by MIT professors in garages, that would be 'tomorrow's IBM.' Nowadays the talk is of gold ... commercial paper, certificates of deposit, jewelry and art as investments, and Swiss bank accounts. There is hardly a word about stocks -- even as dividend payers."

In other words, the backbone of the capital formation process the great body of middle class Americans has been discouraged by the mismanagement of the nation's economy -- endless attacks on business, on profits and the ever- increasing inroads of the tax collector on such things as capital gains.

The emphasis today, as Mr. Soebel observes, is not on investing in tomorrow's opportunity, but in hedging against today's inflation.

There must be a rejuvenation of investor confidence, or we will all face a desolate future.

IMPROVEMENTS IN OSHA URGED BY MANUFACTURERS

Employers are "overwhelmed by the volume and complexity of Occupational Safety and Health Administration standards and regulations," according to E. Douglas Kenna, president, National Association of Manufacturers.

In a keynote address at the first annual conference of Occupational Hazards Magazine, Mr. Kenna suggested an immediate government investigation to amend or revoke Federal standards which bear little relevance to occupational safety and health and require huge expenditures for questionable benefits.

He also suggested that the comment period on proposed new rules should be extended to 90 days rather than the present 30- day period.

Commending the administrators of OSHA for resisting the urgings of organized labor and others "to bring a centralized and punitive philosophy to enforcement of the law," Mr. Kenna also suggested that:

. OSHA should be required to publish an economic impact statement with the publication of each rule, to indicate probable costs of compliance.

. Mandatory penalties for first- instance serious violations should be made discretionary, and discretionary penalties for first- instance non-serious violations should be dropped altogether to encourage corrective action.

. Overlap of OSHA jurisdiction with other federal agencies such as the Department of Transportation, the Coast Guard, and the Food and Drug Administration should be reveiwed now to relieve frustrations of employers faced with conflicting federal orders.

. The Department of Labor should offer employers on-site consultative services by qualified safety engineers and industrial hygienists.

. OSHA compliance officers should be required to advise employers that Small Business Administration (SBA) loans are available to assist in remedying health or safety violations.

Mr. Kenna pointed out that the health and safety record of American industry has been remarkable, with the on the job death rate declining more than 50 per cent since 1938. He expressed the belief that continued application of space-age systems analysis techniques to safety will result in even further employe safety improvements.

BOMBER AT WORK

The senseless bombing of an air terminal in Los Angeles and the planting of another bomb in a bus depot have terrorized a great city and reminded all of us that the internal security of this nation is far from perfect. Similar incidents rocked London several months ago. Probably no form of crime is more terrifying nor more hideous. It may be recalled that the Mad Bomber of New York went unidentified and unapprehended for years.

Admittedly, there criminal offenses are tough to crack. The criminal intelligence unit of the Los Angeles police department is one of the finest in the world and it is unlikely that the bomber will get away with his foul deeds. Still, we are reminded that most police departments are undermanned and underpaid and not enough is being done by the public to support them. If the law enforcement agencies of this nation are given the tools and the manpower, they will get the job done.

There should be fresh resolution on the part of all of us who want protection in our homes and on our jobs to heed the warnings of police chiefs and other leaders in the crime fight when they call for bigger budgets to bolster their forces. We should make our officers feel proud of their badges and publicly commend them when they do outstanding work.

Mad bombers have no place in our society. Neither do rapists, burglars, and thieves. Crime can only succeed if we, the public, remain complacent. Internal security is even more precious than security from foreign aggression. HLH

Inside White House: Behind the Scenes of The Anti-Inflation Summits

WASHINGTON — Trying to cover the White House anti-inflation super- summit and all the little summits is like trying to referee an octopus wrestling match. And then there are my beloved shadowy sources, the eminence grise economists who talk happily of a "grab bag of micro- issues."

But basically, after talking with the organization men, the input team and those in charge of getting all those sensitive national leaders of labor, industry and agriculture into the proper front row seats so no one's feelings are hurt, it all boils down to this:

President Ford hopes to make the whole process one of national common fact- finding -- and not fault-finding.

Thus when the super-summit anti- inflation conference of some 800 of the land's leading minds adjourns the late afternoon of Sept. 28, the world will know that it literally will take several years to slow the rocketing inflation. Repeat -- several years.

There will be no solutions.

The best which can be wrought will be some mechanism, some methodology, some commission to seek a series of solutions, a way of selective and strategic interventions in critical areas, a common effort to reduce prices, interest rates and wage demands.

Among the "macro-options" -- the big choices -- will be a drive to increase energy supplies, by increasing utility rates to the consumer so the power companies can pay more for fuel so there will be an incentive to bring the coal, gas and oil out of the ground. And then a parallel effort to try to get a cut in oil prices, which is basic.

There's much talk of increasing the money supply, 4 per cent to 7½ per cent range -- on which, in view of my own checking account balance, I'm no authority.

Yet the point being made in White House circles -- and indeed it's true -- is that Operation Summit already is a success.

The isolation of presidential decision- making has been smashed.

For the first time in years Congress and the executive branch are working together. And the labor leaders are in on the act. The joint Congressional- White House summit steering committee has been meeting regularly. Sen. Hubert Humphrey and the Ford administration are breakfasting like Richard Burton and his latest. The national AFL-CIO has been dispatching its young Secretary Treasurer Lane Kirkland to confer with economic counselor Ken Rush and summit executive director Bill Seidman in the White House. Thus the political climate is right -- and right for action.

President Ford decided to chair two mini- meetings -- one with the economists and one with labor -- for good reasons. The economists will give him his micro- and macro- options. And he will be able to face the nation's top 15 or 20 most powerful labor leaders on the morning of Sept. 11 in the Cabinet Room and tell them like it is in his very own fashion. After that it will be up to them to go out and tell their people to cool it.

They'll all be told the truth -- and it is hoped that when all the mini- summit conferees gather in the big open mass meeting under President Ford's chairmanship on Sept. 27, while the TV cameras grind and the print newsmen scribble, the hurting truth will be observed and absorbed by the American public.

There are no panaceas. Dollar- dribbling inflation is worsening daily.

There is need for personal restraint, money restraint and ever- increasing supplies of necessities -- which means speeded productivity, or a full day's work for a full day's pay.

Ford and company will tell everyone they'll try voluntary action. But no one expects this to work.

If it doesn't, regardless of what Jerry Ford is saying, there will eventually be the toughest wage and price controls any nation has yet had.

Obviously the new Council on Wage and Price Stability will fail. First, the Congress unwittingly and in haste wrote a bad bill. It will be a silly operation. It should be redrawn. It will have no prestige. How can it jawbone? How can it admonish big labor and capital?

The bill as passed and signed was fouled up. The new Wage-Price Council is staffed at too low a level. So it will be sitting in the White House with a small band of monitors directed by a secondary echelon chief and will be as futile as my trying to outpunch Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier in one ring.

So no labor or industrialist force will heed. It will be much the same in other fields. And the best the White House will be able to do will be to go into the immediate crisis areas such as food, housing, construction, fuel, etc.

Thus the mini- summits become vital. Every force and power bloc in every national phase and area will be faced right on by the President or his surrogates. Business and labor alike will be told they'll have to come up with their own answers.

They will be told that actually the budget can't be cut effectively until the 1976-77 fiscal year. It takes time to slow down and hush the hollering for federal spending.

How can all this be done? By getting the super- summit to agree to let a powerful tripartite government- labor-management commission take over, take the stick out of the closet and clobber whenever necessary. And this is just the beginning.

JACK ANDERSON and LES WHITTEN SAYS: First Class Male

WASHINGTON — Postmaster General Ted Klassen has built himself the most luxurious office in Washington with taxpayer funds, but regularly leaves it for personal junkets, also courtesy of Uncle Sam.

The impulsive Klassen, who has just warned that the price of a stamp is going up again, spent $12,870 on 32 trips to 18 cities in 1973, a travel record that almost puts him in a class with Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

Kissinger has been exhaustedly settling wars; Klassen, on the other hand, has been visiting his various real estate holdings around the country.

"I'm going to take a little trip and look at my property," the peripatetic postmaster is fond of telling colleagues just before a junket. He owns handsome properties in Florida, California and Connecticut, and cloaks his travel there as "official business."

Although junketing by government officials is supposed to be on the public record, Klassen has refused to give us his vouchers for 1974. For fiscal 1973, however, we have tallied up at least $2,000 spent by Klassen on visits to the sites of his real estate.

Most often he justified the 1973 trips to Florida, Hartford and the West Coast by saying he wanted to visit local postal officials. Mysteriously, his own records for 1973 show he visited only one other local postal official, while he journeyed eight times to or near his far- flung properties.

Even Klassen's wife gets in on the act. The Postal Service picked up a $340 tab when she was the guest of honor at the National Association of Postmasters convention in Salt Lake City.

Meanwhile, the postal service is saddled with a $500 million deficit and service continues to decline. Unless Congress bails him out, the free- wheeling postmaster will ask for another rate hike soon. It may cost 13 cents to mail a letter and help underwrite Ted Klassen's royal way of life.

RIGHTS REBEL: Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Caspar Weinberger permitted the University of California to keep $50 million in federal contracts despite advice from a top HEW civil rights lawyer that his actions were illegal and would set a bad precedent.

The giant university in Weinberger's home state had been accused for more than a year of discrimination against women and blacks in both academic and nonacademic jobs. When Berkeley still couldn't get its house in order by this March, HEW's Assistant Civil Rights counsel Theodore Miles wrote a detailed legal opinion for Weinberger.

The school, said Miles, should be forced to show cause why its government contracts should not be canceled as is prescribed by law for those who discriminate.

But Weinberger's general counsel, John Rhinelander, bucked the memo back to Miles, scrawling on it, "Either hold or destroy." Instead, it was slipped out of the files and into our hands.

When we reached Rhinelander, he insisted that he had transmitted Miles' views to Weinberger verbally. He said he ordered the memo destroyed or pigeonholed only because it was no longer necessary. There was no intention to conceal the fact that Miles though Weinberger was acting illegally in not moving firmly against the University of California, he said.

Miles, Rhinelander said, was simply overruled on legal grounds which had nothing to do with Weinberger's personal political ambitions in California. HEW Civil Rights chief Peter Holmes also spoke up for Weinberger, saying Miles' view had been disputed by other HEW lawyers.

Footnote: Although the University of California can still improve its record on discrimination, it has made good progress under the threat of losing its $50 million. It is now hiring qualified blacks and women at a rate well above the national average.

CHURCH SMEAR: Not surprisingly, liberal Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, is being victimized by a vicious John Birch Society campaign. What is surprising is that Church's Republican opponent Bob Smith has not condemned the Birchers' smear.

As many as 100,000 reprints of a Birch Society article are being circulated in an effort to discredit Church on Vietnam. The rightwing circular quotes Church as saying that America's Vietnam "commitments solemnly made must be kept, whether wisely or unwisely." However, it tops off Church's next sentence, "But there never, at any time, has been any commitment on the part of the United States to fight the war in South Vietnam."

This is a little like quoting Abe Lincoln as saying he would carry on his work "with malice," without adding the words "toward none."

Even Smith's own GOP primary challengers denounced the Birch smear campaign. Now, we have discovered a clue to Bob Smith's timidity toward the Birchers, who once mounted the same kind of campaign against President Dwight Eisenhower.

Smith has received handsome contributions of $1,000 each from Birch Society executive board members S. J. Agnew and Floyd Pacton. Smith was also once chief aide to Rep. Steve Symms, R-Idaho, a Birch darling who keynoted the group's convention in Chicago this June.

Stoddard schools show student decline

BLOOMFIELD — Several Stoddard County school districts report a decrease in student enrollment from last year's figures. One exception is the Dexter school district, where Supt. Thurston Hill attributes an increase of 62 students to increased industry in the Dexter area bringing new families into the district.

The Richland district suffered the biggest decrease among the schools that have announced enrollment figures, enrolling 50 fewer students than last year. However, school officials expect this figure to change as additional students enroll following the Labor Day holiday.

Bernie reported a loss of 30 students, Advance is down 10 and Puxico lost three.

The Bell City district will not make an official comparison until the end of the first month of school, and the Bloomfield district, which wound up its first week of classes today, will not announce its enrollment figures until next week.

President field narrows to 4 at SeMo State

CAPE GIRARDEAU — The search for a successor to Dr. Mark Scully as president of Southeast Missouri State University has narrowed to four candidates and should be completed within 30 days.

R. K. Swindle of Senath, Mo., a member of the university's board of regents, confirmed Thursday the board is "rapidly approaching" naming a successor to Scully, who will retire next year after 18 years as president.

"We've not made a final decision, but we're in a position to do so very soon," Swindle said.

A screening committee in May narrowed a list of 100 applicants to six, from which the board has been "actively considering" a successor, he said.

LONDON (AP) — Challenged to sample rush-hour conditions on the subway, London Transport chairman Sir Richard Way spent 21 minutes being jostled on a commuter-jammed platform.

The chairman, who said he uses the subway but not at rush hours, conceded: "It does look a little crowded."

Prairie man found guilty; gets 30 days

CHARLESTON — In a trial by court Thursday, Roger Mannon of East Prairie was found guilty on a misdemeanor stealing charge and was assessed a 30- day jail sentence by Magistrate T. J. Brown Jr.

Mannon, who has been in jail since being arrested for the July 9 stealing incident, was denied probation on the charge since he was already on three-year probation on a statutory rape charge. He was given credit for time served and the matter was referred to his probation officer.

The stealing charge against Mannon was filed in connection with the theft of an $18 pair of boots from Fred's Store in East Prairie. Testifying during the trial were Jegg Cogdill, an employe of the store who witnessed the theft; Jerry Messer, manager of the store; and Charles Morgan, the arresting officer.

Testifying in his own defense, Mannon said he went into the store with another East Prairie youth, Mark Huey, to try on a pair of boots. After putting on the boots, he said they walked toward the front of the store and noticed a car out front and went outside hoping to get a ride home.

Mannon said he tried to explain to Messer that he intended to come back to the store on July 12 and pay for them and that he was only trying them on to see if they fit. Mannon said he became nervous and ran after Messer, told him he was in trouble.

In a preliminary hearing for James Poyner of Charleston on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, Judge Brown delayed his ruling until Sept. 5.

Poyner is accused of assaulting Jamie Small of Wyatt with a chain from a chain saw. Testifying during the preliminary were Small, Thomas Bailey, Morris Griggs and Louis Culver of Wyatt and Sheriff W. J. "Pedro" Simmons.

The alleged incident occurred the night of July 5. According to Small, Poyner and some other youths followed him from Charleston to Wyatt on Highway 60 attempting to make him stop his car. Small said he stopped at Brown's Garage in Wyatt and a fight broke out.

Thomas Bailey testified he was at Brown's Garage when the youths drove up, and said he witnessed the fight. He said he saw the Poyner youth with the chain, which had plastic tape on one end forming a handle, but he did not see Poyner swing the chain at Small. He said he told Poyner not to hit Small with the chain.

Griggs testified he was driving by the garage when he noticed the fight and, after stopping and getting out of his vehicle, he said he saw Poyner swing the chain at Small at least twice. He said Poyner did not hit Small with the chain because it was tangled up, but that he did try to hit him.

The incident reportedly arose over Small calling a girl a name.

A common assault charge against George Greer Jr. of Wyatt was continued to Sept. 5 to allow him time to employ an attorney. Greer, who is free on $250 bond, is accused of assault with a knife on Frankie Bostic of Wyatt on Aug. 25.

A preliminary hearing for David Wayne Summers on a charge of stealing was taken off Thursday's docket and continued to Sept. 12 Summers, who is free on $1,500 bond, is accused of stealing $100 from Reichert Oil Co. of Wyatt on July 30.

Disturbing the peace charges brought fines of $31.50 each to Tony Childers, Lionel Hutson, Terry Siggers, Jesse Jackson and Phil Blackman of East Prairie. Larry McCutchen of East Prairie paid a $34.50 fine on the same charge, and a similar charge against Keith Norman of East Prairie was continued to Sept. 5.

World News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for President Ford ruled out any tax increase requests for this year but would not do the same for 1975. Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst said it would be unrealistic to expect congressional action on taxes in the remaining weeks of the 1974 session. Asked whether a tax increase to fight inflation would be part of the President's 1975 legislative program, terHorst said this is the "sort of issue a president always has before him" and that tax boosts sometimes are needed "just as a practical governmental matter."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford reaffirmed his opposition to limiting grain exports, even as the Agriculture Department was reporting a surge in corn buying by the Common Market nations. A department spokesman said the nine-nation European market has ordered nearly 368.5 million bushels of corn for the marketing year starting Oct. 1. A week ago, the total for the year was only 204.8 million bushels. But the spokesman termed the increase merely speculative and predicted that much of the corn would not be shipped.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prices that consumers pay for petroleum products may have to be forced up as part of the project to make the United States more self-sufficient in energy, a top Treasury Department official said. Jack F. Bennett, undersecretary for monetary funds, said the government might have to act on prices as a move to cut demand and encourage development of alternative energy sources. Bennett commented a day after President Ford urged that the program, known as Project Independence, be accelerated.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is planning personal meetings with European leaders and looks forward to "a productive and cooperative relationship" despite an edgy exchange with French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing. Ford's views on European relationships were reflected in a deliberately worded White House statement issued two days after Giscard criticized the U.S. President for not mentioning Europe in a major speech to Congress.

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany said that two years of rapid inflation have forced Americans to abandon efforts to improve their living standards "in favor of just plain survival." In his annual Labor Day message, Meany said the problems of inflation and unemployment call out for humanitarian solutions but until now the government has treated the problems as mathematical equations. "It is our hope the new President will see more than just cold, cruel numbers — that he'll see people, not percentages, and that he will move with compassion," the labor chieftain said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A weight-watching President Ford will meet weekly with his doctor for "15-minute chats" to check on his calorie count.

Ford's physician, William Lukash, gave the President a clean bill of health last week but said he needed to trim 5¾ of his 200¾ pounds.

Lukash met with Ford on Thursday and said the President's contact lenses were ready and arranged for a fitting. The President is seldom seen publicly in glasses, but needs them for long-distance sight.

NEW YORK (AP) — Film star Bette Davis has suffered a mild back strain while rehearsing the Bjmadwry-boucd musical "Miss Moffatt."

The play's scheduled performance in Baltimore Sept. 9-21 was canceled, and the first showing is now scheduled for Philadephia on Sept. 23.

A spokesman said Miss Davis, 66, developed pains in her left leg during rehearsals on Tuesday and the following day was admitted to a hospital. The ailment was diagnosed as a back sprain, requiring physical therapy for at least one week.

"Miss Moffatt" is a musical adaptation of "The Corn is Green," in which Miss Davis starred on the screen 29 years ago.

LONDON (AP) — Princess Anne and her husband, Capt. Mark Phillips, have been selected to compete for Britain in the world three-day equestrian event next month.

The event begins Sept. 12 at Burghley in eastern England.

The daughter of Queen Elizabeth II will ride Goodwill as an individual entry for the Raleigh Trophy while her husband competes with the British team on the queen's horse Columbus, it was announced on Thursday.

Phillips won the Raleigh Trophy last year on Maid Marion.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The First Family will spend the Labor Day weekend at the presidential retreat in Camp David, Md.

Accompanying President and Mrs. Ford in their first visit there will be daughter Susan and her friend Gardner Britt of Alexandria, Va., and son Steven and his friend Deedee Jarvis of Alexandria.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential counselor Anne Armstrong has been asked to submit a list of women eligible for top government positions.

"The President is listening and receptive," she said after a 45- minute meeting in the White House with PresidentFord and 27 leading women appointees on Thursday.

Linnemeyer said he crawled under the house Thursday and found a char pattern leading away from the place where the television antenna was connected to the house.

He said lightning apparently struck the antenna, traveled through a wire into the house and began a small fire under the floor. The fire, undetected, apparently worked its way into the walls of the house and then broke through the walls.

Clark told Linnemeyer the house had been hit by lightning earlier in the evening.

Apparently, the family discovered the fire and crawled to the front door, Linnemeyer said. When they opened the door, the fresh oxygen caused the house to explode. The force of the blast blew them out the door and onto the front lawn.

Linnemeyer said the area burned the worst was the back bedroom, indicating the fire and explosion began there.

The television antenna was located outside the back bedroom.

A hospital spokesman said this morning that the condition of the three family members had stabilized and that there no longer seems any real danger of them dying.

Clark, 40, suffered burns over 40 per cent of his body. His wife Jolene, 38, suffered burns over 20 per cent of the body. Their daughter Deborah, 17, was burned over 60 per cent of the body. The father and daughter were listed in critical condition and Mrs. Clark in serious condition following arrival at the St. Louis hospital early Thursday.

A second daughter was away from home at the time of the explosion.

police car driven by Detective Dan Hinton.

Hinton continued to chase Garrett and, when the police car and Garrett's car were side by side at the corner of Tanner Street and Moore Avenue, Capt. Lawrence Woodard, riding with Hinton, shot out the front and rear tires on the driver's side of Garrett's car.

Police said Garrett had been unable to get into the apartment but allegedly took two shirts off the porch.

Police Chief Leon Culp said information on the chase has been turned over to Prosecuting Attorney Jim Moore for disposition.

The skirt is coming back.

I know this won't choke up women cello players, but it's true. Not only do designers say American women are going to be wearing more skirts and dresses, but the hemlines are going to be longer.

This is bad news in more ways than one. Several years ago, someone figured out as the hemlines go ...so goes the economy. The longer the hemline, the more acute the depression... The shorter the hemline, the greater the country's prosperity.

The way I look at it, with beans at 87 cents a pound I'm stuck with a closet full of blouses.

"What am I going to do with all those short dresses?" I asked Mother.

"Like I always said, 'You can make a skirt shorter,' said Mother. 'But you can't make it longer after it's cut off."

"When did you say that?" I asked.

"When you cut off your winter coat."

"Mother! You can't walk around in a coat with a hem so thick, you look like you're storing rifles in it."

"So, don't yell at me. You're the one with the closet full of blouses."

" Remember Margaret Shelhaas? I went to school with her and when hemlines dropped in 1947, she made new tops for all of her skirts out of muslin, wore long sweaters and never raised her arms."

"Did it work?"

"No, it was miserable. She couldn't try out for cheerleading, mail a letter, wave good -bye, hang up her coat, or comb her hair in public. She finally dropped out of school."

"Because of fake tops on her skirts?"

"Yes. She was failing everything because she never participated in class by raising her hand to answer anything."

"Maybe hemlines won't get too long and you can just slouch for a few years," offered Mother.

"Oh, they're going to get long all right. Remember the economy in 1900 to 1927 and then how skirts went thigh -high by 1928? And how they went down in 1929, and up again in 1940? From '47 to '54 they were mid -calf and in 1967 hemlines went as high as 30 inches."

I was still discussing the problem with my husband last night at a movie when we saw a young girl leanover the drinking fountain.

"I don't ever remember the economy being that good," I said.

"It wasn't," he said dreamily. "But when skirts get that high no one seems to care."

Ann Landers

Maturity definition rerun

Dear Ann Landers: I thought your answer to that 16- year- old girl who had stretch marks was pretty sarcastic and not a bit helpful. The girl told you that her stretch marks were not from childbirth, but from losing weight. She was especially unhappy about the stretch marks on her breasts and thighs.

You said, "Unless you have plans to be a stripper, I can't think of any good reason the stretch marks might interfere with your life."

Well, I'm 17 years old and I DO plan to be a stripper. What advice to you have for me? -- Baby Face June

Dear Face: Take typing or learn a trade so you'll be able to support yourself. The career of a well- paid stripper is about eight years.

Dear Ann Landers: Every now and then you repeat a column when a reader asks for it. I hope you will do me a big favor and rerun your definition of maturity. I had copies made when it first appeared in print and I sent them to my nieces and nephews. They said it meant a lot to them and I'm sure a great many other readers profited from it.

It's been five years now, and I hope you will favor us once more with that very special column. My thanks in advance. -- E.A.D. In New Brunswick, N.J.

Dear E.A.D.: Here it is. Thank you for asking:

Maturity is many things. First, it is the ability to base a judgment on The Big Picture, The Long Haul.

It means being able to pass up fun- for- the - minute and select the course of action which will pay off later. One of the characteristics of infancy is the "I want it NOW" approach. Grown- up people can wait.

Maturity is the ability to stick with a project or a situation until it has been completed. The adult who is constantly changing jobs, changing friends, and changing spouses is immature. He cannot stick it out because he has not grown up. Everything seems to turn sour (or uninteresting) after awhile.

Maturity is the capacity to face unpleasantness, frustration, discomfort and defeat without complaint or collapse. The mature person knows he can't have everything his own way. Life won't allow it. He is able to defer to circumstances, to other people, and to time.

Maturity is the ability to live up to your responsibilities and keep your word. This means being dependable. Dependability equates with personal integrity. Do you mean what you say and say what you mean?

The world is filled with people who can't be counted on. They never seem to come through in the crunch. They are the cop- outs who break promises and substitute alibis for performance. Invariably they show up late -- or not at all. They are confused and disorganized. Their lives are a chaotic maze of unfinished business.

Maturity is the ability to make a decision and stand by it. Immature people spend most of their time exploring endless possibilities and then they do nothing. Action requires courage. And there can be no maturity without courage.

Maturity is the ability to harness your abilities and your energies and to do more than is expected. The mature person refuses to settle for mediocraty. He would rather aim high and miss the mark than aim low and make it. -- Ann Landers

What's prudish? What's O.K.? If you aren't sure, you need some help. It's available in the booklet: "Necking and Petting -- What Are the Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers, P. O. Box 3346, Chicago, Illinois 60654, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self- addressed envelope.

Vows unite Miss Martin, Wooley

Miss Donna Gail Martin and William Ray Wooley were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Aug. 2 in Shady Acres Church of Christ. Minister Manly Luscombe officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Martin of Blodgett, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wooley of Miner.

The church was decorated with a 15-branch candelabrum flanked on each side by baskets of blue, yellow and white daisies and baby's breath on pedestals. Candles decorated with baby's breath, greenery and ribbon were at the end of the pews in the center aisle.

Pre-nuptial music was provided by recordings of the Harding a cappella choir. Processional and recessional selections were also by the choir. Mrs. Sondra Armour sang, "If" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father. She wore a gown fashioned of dacron polyester organza over taffeta with a slight empire waistline with front midriff accented by lace cutouts and seed pearls. Ruffles, lace and yellow satin ribbon adorned the front and standup collar. Lace cut-outs and seed pearls accented the long sheer sleeves and ruffled cuffs.

The long skirt featured a wide ruffle trimmed with lace and yellow satin ribbon that went into a short train. The back was accented with a Dior bow.

She wore a picture hat trimmed with lace, seed pearls and satin ribbon. She carried a cascade of pixie carnations, yellow roses, baby's breath and ivy.

Preceding the bride was maid of honor Cindy Martin of Blodgett, sister of the bride, who was escorted by the best man Alvin Wooley of Miner, brother of the groom.

Bridesmaids were Peggi Brewer and Carrie Arsta of Sikeston, cousin of the bride, and Nancy Morrow of Diehlstadt. They were escorted down the aisle by groomsmen Dan Sutton and Mark Robison of Sikeston and Mike Hare of Essex, cousin of the groom.

The girls wore identical yellow gowns of polyester voile lined with polyester and cotton. The ruffled skirt was softly gathered to bodice, above normal waist line, ont midriff, high round neckline, ruffled standup collar, short puffed sleeves and sashes that tied in back.

They wore white picture hats accented with yellow satin ribbons and big yellow flowers. They carried cascades of blue, yellow and white daisies and baby's breath.

The groom wore a tuxedo with white coat trimmed in black, black pants and white ruffled shirt trimmed in black. He wore a yellow rose boutonniere.

The bride's father, best man, groomsmen and ushers wore tuxedos with yellow coats trimmed in black, black pants and white ruffled shirts trimmed in black and wore yellow rose boutonniere.

Ushers were Mike Hare and Harold Duff, cousins of the groom.

The flower girl was Jill Martin of Blodgett, sister of the bride. Her gown was of white organza accented with ruffles, lace and yellow satin ribbon with a ribbon sash around an empire waistline. She carried a basket of daisies and baby's breath.

The ringbearer was Timmy Eifert of St. Louis, cousin of the groom. He wore a tuxedo identical to the ones worn by the men.

Candlelighters were Jeffrey Martin of Blodgett, brother of the bride, and Sandy Arsta of Sikeston cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a peach-colored, A-line, floor-length dress with long chiffon sleeves. The groom's mother wore a sleeveless, blue, A-line, floor-length dress with standup collar. Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

Miss Regina Eason attended the guestbook.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church fellowship room. Mrs. Barbara Arsta and Mrs. Jan Falkner of Sikeston, aunts of the bride, served as hostesses. They were assisted by Vicky Nall of Benton and Cindy Bollinger and Cindy Johnson of Blodgett.

The bride's table was overlined with a white cloth. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the table. The ends of the table held a silver coffee service and cut glass punch bowl. Nuts and mints were served from silver trays, and the wedding candles were held in silver candleholders.

Sophomore quarterback draws lot of praise

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The word is circulating around Columbia that sophomore quarterback Steve Pisarkiewicz of Missouri has the best passing arm since the late Paul Christman sparkled for the Tigers 35 years ago.

Since Christman's day, Missouri has had some standout aerial artists including Terry McMillan, Tony Scardino and Gary Lane.

Pisarkiewicz has never thrown a varsity pass, but figures heavily in Coach Al Onofrio's plans for the 1974 campaign along with senior Ray Smith, who will start as long as he proves the more effective of the two.

Ask about the comparison with Missouri passing greats, Pisarkiewicz replied:

"That's a flattering comment."

Pisarkiewicz said he prefers "to throw play action passes. I like to throw short. I like to set things up with short passes and work on defenses."

Pisarkiewicz, weighing the competitive situation between himself and Smith, said he would "concede that Ray's a better runner than I am. We give each other tips."

Smith, who first started a game in Missouri's finale of the regular 1973 season and got the call again in the Sun Bowl against Auburn, asserted that "Steve throws a little harder than I do, but I won't say he throws better than I do."

Onofrio said he is "committed to playing them both. Both are pretty big, and they're both complete quarterbacks. Ray's probably a little better runner than Steve but Steve's probably got a little stronger arm than Ray."

Missouri will be extremely strong defensively, even more so than last year when the Tigers posted a 7-4 record during the regular season and gave up an average of only 12.3 points a game.

The starting defense has nine lettermen back, linebackers Lynn Evans and Scott Pickens, tiger back Steve Yount, ends Tom Garavaglia and Bob Keeney, tackles Dave Johnston and Dennis Vanarsdall, cornerback Kenney Downing and safety Tony Gillick.

Missing from the cast are cornerback John Moseley, a super punt and kickoff return specialist, and nose guard Herris Butler. Tom Cooper, a junior, will be the nose guard and Bob Brown, who lettered in 1972 and missed last season, Mosely's replacement.

"I know defensively we're much further ahead than we were last year," Onofrio said, "And we had a pretty good defense last year."

Smith and Piesarkiewicz will have capable help in the backfield in tailback Bill Ziegler, slotback Randy Grossart and fullback Ray Bybee. Bybee was named the most valuable player in Missouri's 34-17 Sun Bowl victory over Auburn.

The Tigers' most glaring weakness could be in the offensive line. Tight end Don Muse and guards Steve Sadich and Don Buck are the only returning starters. Mike Owens, the center, and Mark Miller, the split end, both earned letters.

"Offensively, I think we have the people to open the attack a little more," said Onofrio. "We're not going to fill the air with balls but I think we'll probably throw a little more this year. We have some good receivers.

"All in all, I think we'll have a good football team."

1973 record over-all—7-4.

1973 Big Eight record—3-4, fifth place.

New faces—Defensive end Dale Smith, tiger back chuck Banta, offensive tackle D. W. Johnston, quarterback Steve Pisarkiewicz.

Strengths—Excellent over-all defense, fine fullback in Ray Bybee and better than average tailback in Bill Ziegler.

Weaknesses—Questionable offensive line, placekicking, inexperience at quarterback.

Probable Big Eight finish— Third place.

Coulson raises average

McSpadden is 2-2 and has an ERA of 3.41. Smith is 12-6 with an ERA of 3.53.

Steve Coulson batted .368 for the week and raised his average to .297 for the season.

Mark Littel is on the disabled list due to arm injury.

Curtis hurls one-hit gem

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Padres are in last place but catcher Fred Kendall has had the satisfaction this season of breaking up two no- hitters in the late innings.

"He hit a good pitch. It was where I wanted it," St. Louis left- hander John Curtis, 8-12, conceded Thursday night after the Padre catcher singled home a game- tying run with two out in the eighth inning of a game the Cardinals won in the ninth, 3-1, on run-scoring singles by Jim Dwyer and Mike Tyson.

"It was a fastball inside and I guess I was looking for it," said Kendall, whose sharp hit went through the left side of the infield to score Dave Winfield. Curtis retired the first 21 batters to face him but lost his bid for a perfect game when he walked Winfield to open the eighth.

"I was very careful with Winfield because he hit a home run here to beat me 1-0 earlier this season," Curtis said.

Meantime, Kendall was remembering during the game that on May 27 in Pittsburgh, he led off the ninth inning with a single to break up Pirate lefthander Ken Brett's bid for a no- hitter.

"I wasn't too let down when Kendall got his hit," Curtis said. "I wanted the no-hitter. I started thinking about it in the fifth inning, but we're in a pennant race and the main thing was to win the game."

The victory lifted the Cardinals within a half game of first- place Pittsburgh in the National League East.

"They, the Padres, hit some balls hard, but right at people, and my outfielders made two good plays one by left fielder Lou Brock and the other by centerfielder Bake McBride.

Kendall's run- scoring single nullified a seventh-inning homer by Cardinal catcher Ted Simmons.

It was the only run given up by Padre starter Randy Jones, who allowed four hits before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning. Reliever Larry Hardy, 7-4, gave up the two deciding runs when McBride, Ken Reitz, pinch hitter Dwyer and Tyson hit successive singles with two out in the ninth.

HOCKEY

NEW YORK — The New York Rangers acquired veteran left winger Greg Polis from the St. Louis Blues for defenseman Larry Sacharuk and a first- round selection in the 1976 or 1977 National Hockey League draft.

Watkins star of state champs

JEFFERSON CITY — John Watkins of Sikeston hurled and batted Rippeto of Jefferson City into the Regionals Fastpitch Softball Tournament this Saturday and Sunday at Springfield.

Watkins became the only pitcher in the 37- team state event to hurl a no- hitter as Rippeto beat Washington 4-0 in the semi- finals Saturday afternoon. Watkins also started the final game Sunday in the final against Savannah but was relieved in the sixth frame. Watkins had shutout the Savannah team for the first six innings.

In his no- hitter Watkins fanned eight and walked two. Washington had scored 15 runs in its previous three games. In addition to hurling the no- hitter Watkins knocked in three of the four runs.

Kelso and New Hamburg had been eliminated earlier but New Hamburg's elimination wasn't due to loss of games. It was due to the use of a player who had participated in the Missouri Men's Slow Pitch softball tournament last week in St. Joseph.

This marked the second consecutive year that Jefferson City Rippeto Carpets has won the state tournament and John Watkins has pitched for the team both years.

The Cape Girardeau Jets is the only other team to win two consecutive state titles and Watkins hurled for them in 1960-61. John has played for a total of seven state winners.

Rippeto faces St. Louis Browns Friday night at 9:30 in the Mid- Central Regional Tournament at Springfield.

The tournament commences at 6:30 Friday night and concludes Monday, Sept. 2.

LOOKING FOR A SMALL CAR THAT WON'T CRAMP YOUR STYLE?
MY DODGE BOYS HAVE THE ANSWER.
(AND YOU MIGHT BE IN FOR A SURPRISE!)

A DODGE DART CAN GET MORE MILES PER GALLON THAN NOVA OR MAVERICK.
In a recent USAC "Miles-Per-Gallon Showdown," a Dodge Dart Sport averaged better than 27 mpg over a 972-mile highway run (Phoenix to L.A., round trip) at an average speed of 53 mph. The Nova and Maverick in the test couldn't match that. Of course, the mileage you'll get depends on many factors including how and where you drive and the condition of your vehicle.
A DART SPORT HAS MORE TOTAL HIPROOM THAN A MAVERICK AND MORE TRUNK SPACE THAN EITHER THREE PINTOS OR THREE GREMLINS.
EVERY DART COMES STANDARD WITH THE MONEY-SAVING ELECTRONIC IGNITION SYSTEM (WITH NO POINTS OR CONDENSER TO GET WET OR WEAR OUT).

Young Bulldogs at Portageville

PORTAGEVILLE — Sophomores and Juniors are going to be the main factor in the success of the Portageville Bulldog's football team this year. Of the 29 football players who reported to Coach Jim McKay this season only five were seniors. Fifteen lettermen returned. Two players who would have possibly been starting backs didn't report for practice.

Coach McKay feels that the players attitudes are good and he will be playing more boys this year than before. McKay feels that around 25 of his players will be getting a lot of game action this season.

Two second team all-conference players are returning. Lavonne Fountain at Defensive End and Hank Workman at Quarterback. Workman was only a sophomore last year and he will probably be in the quarterback position again. Ronnie Hooser another Junior is giving Hank some competition this year for the starting spot. Workman will probably have three sophomores behind him in the backfield. Tommy Dial a Junior halfback has been very impressive so far in practice. Coach McKay will continue to use the wishbone offense and since Workman is an experienced quarterback. they will throw the ball a lot more than last year.

Glen Graham, Walter Ace and Randy Hooser will be starting linemen. Graham and Ace are Seniors. The Bulldog's will again show a five man front, stacked type of defense again this year.

McKay feels that this year he really wants to build depth into his football machine. With all the sophomores and juniors on the team the more game experience the better the future outlook of the Bulldog's.

Portageville was 5-5 last season and Coach McKay is making no predictions this year. He did say that Dexter or Hayti were probably the best in the conference.

Seasonal Growth

Each spring and summer, a tree adds new layers of wood to its trunk. The wood formed in spring grows fast and is lighter because it consists of large cells while growth is slower in the summer causing darker wood of smaller cells. When a tree is cut, the layers appear as alternating rings of light and dark wood.

Essex man bound over for tampering vehicle

BLOOMFIELD — Elbert Lavern Parden, 17, of Essex was bound over to Circuit Court Thursday, following a preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court before Judge Koss W. Blomeyer. on a charge of tampering with a motor vehicle.

Parden and an Essex juvenile boy are charged with stealing hubcaps and a battery from an automobile owned by Leon Gaines of Dexter while it was parked on the Richland High School parking lot.

Another case, charging Parden with an Aug. 12 burglary at an Essex service station, was dismissed due to insufficient evidence.

Parden also will face two additional counts of burglary and stealing when he appears for preliminary hearings set for Sept. 12. Bond was set at $1,000 in each case. Parden and the juvenile were arrested Aug. 15 in Selmer, Tnnn., from where they were brought back by the Stoddard County sheriff's department.

Charges of burglary and stealing against Roy Lee Bishop and Drake Evans of Canalou were reduced to breaking and entering a school building. The two men were sentenced to 15 days in the county jail, with their jail time to be served from 9 a.m. Saturday until 9 p.m. Sunday each week until the 15 days are served.

Bishop received credit for six days in jail, and Evans was given credit for three days.

James M. Stone waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to Circuit Court for trial Sept. 18 on two counts of insufficient funds checks.

Robert Morrow received a 30- day suspended jail sentence and was ordered to make restitution after he pleaded guilty to writing an insufficient funds check.

Nathan A. Tedford, 17, of Dexter was fined $10 for operating a motor vehicle using a red light inside the car, while hot rodding.

Virgil Leo Mace of Dexter was given a 30- day suspended jail sentence and fined $15 for driving while his license was revoked.

Fined for speeding were George Vernon Wilson of Poplar Bluff, $21, and William Thomas Merick of Catron, $27.

Paying $15 fines for careless and imprudent driving were Jurl D. Brittain of Bloomfield and Larry Joe Leathers of Dudley.

Freida Mae Cambron of Morehouse paid a $10 fine for driving without a license.

First Assembly to host soloist

First Assembly of God Church, 306 S. Kingshighway, will host an evening of sacred music with Gloria Elliot, former soloist for the Revivaltime International Radio Choir of the Assemblies of God, Sunday at 7 p.m., according to the Rev. Loren Wooten, pastor.

Gloria Elliot

Reared in a minister's home in Virginia, Miss Elliot began singing publicly at the age of four. When she was 19, she came to Missouri to attend Central Bible College at Springfield.

That very year, in 1967, she first became a member of the Revivaltime choir. For the next four years, she continued with the choir and shared her mellow alto voice in the recording of four long-play albums with the choir. She now records on the Impact/Tempo Label and has continued to share her ministry in music with people in many parts of the world.

Since 1970, she has traveled throughout the United States, Canada and parts of Mexico, Europe and the Bahamas.

Christ Gospel, Salcedo churches to host singers

The Singing Faithmen of Cape Girardeau will sing in two Sikeston area churches this weekend. At 7 p.m. Saturday, the group will be at Christ Gospel Church, 717 Kendall St., and Sunday at 6:30 p.m. a program will be presented at Salcedo Baptist Church, located four miles west of town on Route Y.

The Rev. James Beaird is pastor at Christ Gospel, and the Rev. Watis R. Harrell is pastor at Salcedo Baptist.

Tinnon Trio to sing

The Tinnon Trio of St. Louis will present a gospel singing program at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Evangelistic Temple, 107 Sixth St., according to the Rev. Ed Kinder, pastor.

This week's Uniform INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Dr. William H. Taft

FOR SEPTEMBER 1, 1974

Scripture: Genesis 1-3

GOD'S PURPOSE FOR MAN

For the next six months these lessons will concern the Creation, man's relations with God, and God's relations with man. It will be a review of the beginnings of this world.

Many debates occur over the interpretations of the start of this universe. The Bible relates the day-by-day activities of God, yet it doesn't describe how long a day was.

Unfortunately, too many persons even now fail to realize that the process of creation continues today. And with this continuous creation, man acquires more and more problems, many quite difficult to solve.

Generally, we agree on three major points:

First, God created man.

Second, God created man in His physical and spiritual likeness, desiring him to be perfect as God is perfect.

Third, God gave man dominion over the world.

William King wrote in 1702 that "God might, indeed, have refrained from creating, and continued alone, self-sufficient, and perfect to all eternity; but His infinite Goodness would by no means allow it."

Creation certainly is a more significant event than destruction. And self-fulfillment is measured in terms of what man has become and can be under God.

There are those who encounter doubts about the Creation story. One such person was answered by John Calvin in 1563 when he wrote:

"When a certain shameless fellow mockingly asked a pious old man what God had done before the Creation of the world, the latter aptly countered that He had been building hell for the curious."

Man has been given the privilege to enjoy this world along with the responsibility to conserve the blessings. At the present time, man hasn't done too well with the latter.

God must be disturbed with our treatment of the water, soil, air, and other elements in this polluted world. Such treatment of our blessings hardly can be appreciated by the Creator.

"The end of creation is that all things may return to the Creator and be united with Him," wrote Emmanuel Swedenborg in 1763. Many young people today express a desire that their fellowmen live in integrity before God.

God asked us to obey certain rules. He realized that His people could not remain perfect. The Bible is full of stories of what follows when we fail to obey His directions.

God established high standards for us. If membership in His world required little from us, it would hardly be worth the everlasting life He has promised His believers.

When we disobey God we are punished although the results may not be known for years. This may be seen in our courts today with the long time between arrest and trial.

Adam and Eve were punished for their sin. When we decide to set our own standards and go our own way, we sacrified our chances to be with God.

Adam and Eve gave up their place in the Garden of Eden. Today, many persons must leave their high standards of living and seek poorer accommodations after they have sinned. The price we pay can become quite expensive.

There are times when all of us ask ourselves why we are here. What is the major purpose for each of us?

Some persons will serve God. Some will take time to evaluate their motives and goals, placing their future in God's hands. Others will continue to go their own way, lacking any goal or any real purpose in life.

Throughout this series of lessons we must always return to our personal situation. God created us because He wanted to, not because he was forced to.

In the end God will recall His many creations. The major challenge we will meet is this: How will we be judged by the Inspector?

President Ford and the quiet return of religion

By David Poling

The departure of Richard M. Nixon from the White House will occupy political analysts for the remainder of the year and historians for the rest of the century. Since the matters of church and state still control our society, it is appropriate to consider the impact of President Gerald R. Ford — in religion as well as politics.

It is apparent to many Americans that the new President is a man of deep personal convictions, a serious member of the Episcopal Church, and is willing to make prayer and public life a natural experience. His references to the Almighty in his first addresses were not the suggestions of a speech writer but the normal affirmations of a spiritual personality. His first weekend in office found President Ford not in some entertainment center in Florida or California — but attending his neighborhood Church in suburban Maryland. It is the opinion of many who know this man from Michigan that his occupancy of the White House will mark a quiet return of the religious dimension — not only in Washington but across the United States.

Consider these clues. Of all the associations, organizations and groups to which Gerald Ford has belonged in his 20 years of public life, a congressional prayer group has been his most determined priority. The new President reflects the deep piety that is nourished and sustained in so many Michigan households. Indeed, one of his sons is presently preparing for the ministry at Gordon-Conwell Seminary. The concerns of church and Bible and the Christian life are familiar to this family and their friends.

With this background, what sort of changes should we anticipate in the affairs of church and state? For a president, by neglect or enthusiasm, hostility or cordiality, does affect the religious atmosphere in the United States.

1) Look for an end to the formal worship services in the White House. Nothing was more irritating to the religious community of North America than the Sunday services held for an "invited" audience, a command performance of President Nixon. Apologists argued that the Secret Service wanted this, it was easier to handle security. Whatever, President Ford and his family will move out of this religious imprisonment and reinstate the public attendance at church that every other president has followed.

2) Just as this administration has declared an open and honest style of leadership in the matters of state, so will the channels be extended to the dozens of churchmen of every denomination and faith to hear their concerns, answer their inquiries, and seek their counsel. The Nixon administration, and the last years of the Johnson, saw an almost complete put down of church leaders and religious issues. Vietnam was the reason, but now a new beginning will do much to restore a balance in these matters.

Almost 20 years ago, overlooking the Hudson River at Morningside Heights, a new building was being dedicated. Some two dozen denominations and church groups would inhabit this New York skyscraper. The largest tenant was to be the National Council of Churches, with the World Council taking an entire floor.

As the impressive cermonies came to an end, Dwight David Eisenhower stepped forward and the cornerstone of the Interchurch Center was laid by the 34th President of the United States. For a man of faith and in touch with the spiritual life of the people, it was a normal, natural event to share.

With Gerald Ford we will see the quiet but forceful return of the religious dimension.

Rebel priest defies modernized liturgy

SANDERSTEAD, England (AP) — By staying the same, the Rev. Peter John Morgan has become a "different" style of priest in the present-day Roman Catholic Church.

He wears a cassock, a black flat hat, speaks a dead language, venerates a four-centuries-dead pope and defies the wishes of the present pontiff, Pope Paul VI.

In a changing world, Father Morgan refuses to change. Rejecting the modernized liturgy and defying Vatican directives to put it in local languages, he sticks to the traditional Mass in Latin.

He has counterparts scattered around the world, including the United States — traditionalists who have, by not changing, become rebels in a church that changed.

The traditionalists are willing to spend time, energy and money for their cause. And there are thousands of them, here and there, who don't like the new ways.

Supporters of Father Morgan provide him with a house here on the outskirts of London, pay him a salary with expenses to freewheel over southern England to say the old Mass.

Many are ready to drive miles for his hour-long ceremony on any day of the week.

To publicize their campaign, they've formed a society and advertise on a poster that "The traditional Roman Catholic Mass is now widely available again."

Father Morgan, English-born, looks older than his 34 years. He is round-faced, portly under his ankle-length black cassock, talks incessantly, is rapid in speech and quick of movement. He speaks English, French, Italian and Latin.

"Yes, I am young," he said in an interview, "but there is no one else to do it. I have tried to unite the traditionalists. The Church must retain its dignity."

Father Morgan started his clerical career in the Church of England and went to Australia on missionary work among the Aborigines in northern Queensland. He was converted to the Roman Catholic Church in 1963 — "a gift of faith," he said.

To a question of why the apparently simple matter of the form and language of the Mass should be disturbing the mighty, 600-million strong Church, Father Morgan replied:

Singing group to be featured

CHARLESTON — The Church of The Nazarene on South Thorn Street will feature the Reveille Singers and Jim "Dickie" Jones during the 10:30 a.m. worship service and again at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Local church school helps

Mrs. Lynn Hicklin, a Vacation Church School worker at First Presbyterian Church in Lee's Summit, helps Chris Trantham and Mindy Hicklin pack a box of hand tools for a CROP shipment to Malagasy Republic, an island nation in the Indian Ocean. Over $2,500 has been contributed by 40 Vacation Church Schools in Missouri -- including $64.09 by the Sikeston Ecumenical Church School -- to provide milk for children and tools for self- help projects around the world, in cooperationwith the Missouri Council of Churches.

Revival set Sept. 15-22 by New Madrid church

NEW MADRID — Revival services will be conducted Sept. 15-22 in the New Madrid Baptist Church, 1240 Scott St.

The Rev. Nick Harris of Halls, Tenn., will be the evangelist, and Raymond Richerson of Jackson, Tenn., will be the song leader.

Services will begin on Sept. 15 at 7:30 p.m. and continue through the 10:30 a.m. worship service on Sept. 22.

The Rev. Mr. Harris received his higher education at Union University in Jackson, Tenn., and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Tex. He has pastored for 13 years in churches throughout Tennessee and Texas and has led revivals throughout the South and Southwest, as well as a number of family life conferences. He also has spoken to large youth assemblies.

He is married and has three children, and is presently pastor of First Baptist Church in Halls.

Richerson received his education at Union University and seminaries in New Orleans, La., and Louisville, Ky. He has a daily radio program in Jackson and often appears on television and in sacred concerts. He was also the soloist for the pastor's conference at the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlantic City, N. J., in 1964.

THE BIBLE

150. God's Message To David

When peace finally came upon the land, and Israel was not at war with the neighboring nations, David proposed to Nathan that they erect a majestic temple to house the Ark of the Covenant, for it was still placed in a tent. Nathan heartily agreed and encouraged King David in the plan.

However, that night the Lord spoke to Nathan and told him to inform David that he should not build a temple for the ark, for the ark had been housed in a tent since the time that Israel was delivered from Egypt. The Lord also promised that David's family would reign over Israel perpetually.

Nathan dutifully relayed God's message to David, and David, his heart overflowing with worshipful joy, went before the Lord and prayed a splendid prayer of Thanksgiving, concluding "Therefore now let it please thee to bless the house of thy servant, that it may continue for ever before thee: for thou O Lord God, has spoken it; and with thy blessing let the house of thy servant be blessed for ever." HAYTI — Gene Parsons of Branson Construction Company in Poplar Bluff is the apparent low bidder for the construction of the Hayti Heights water and sewer system.

The bid of $310,697.50 was submitted to the Hayti Heights City Council Tuesday night, and is expected to be formally accepted within the next two weeks, pending approval of the Environmental Protection Agency, which has alloted the Pemiscot County community a $350,000 grant for the project.

Other bids received were for $370,144 from Bridger Plumbing and Heating, Sikeston, and for $372,817 from Garney Utilities, Kansas City.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — U.S. Representative Bill D. Burlison, of Missouri's 10th Congressional District, has announced that the Department of Housing and Urban Development has awarded a grant in the amount of $98,050 to the Charleston Housing Authority. The Congressman explained that the funds will be utilized for the continuation of the Neighborhood Development Program projects. This is an additional award to an earlier grant of $177,050, bringing the total to $275,100.

Pre-enrollment date set for day care

CHARLESTON — The Mississippi County Child Development Center is conducting pre-enrollment to determine the number of parents wishing to place their children in the proposed day care center at the Lincoln Community Center in Charleston.

Pre-enrollment applications will be used to supply information necessary to get funding from various sources.

The day care center will be open to children of working parents who are between the ages of three and five and who are toilet trained.

Cost for a day's care will be based on a sliding scale depending on the family's income. The maximum cost will be $3.50 a day.

The day care center will provide the children with educational as well as play experiences. The children will also be served breakfast, a hot noon meal and an afternoon snack if they are enrolled for full day care. The center will open at 6:30 a.m. and will close at 4:30 p.m.

The pre-enrollment application is not the final admission application for the center. When funding has been approved, a more detailed admission application will be necessary but those filling out pre-enrollment applications will be given priority. This application does not commit a parent to enroll his child in the day care center.

Applications may be picked up at the Urban Renewal office and the DAEOC centers in Charleston, the County Welfare Office in East Prairie, Wilson City, City Hall, Bertrand City Hall and at Raffety's Store in Wyatt. You can contact Fred Gordon (683-4683) or Pat Goulson (683-2250) for further information.

Applications should be turned in by Sept. 12 at the Urban Renewal Office in Charleston or sent to Pat Goulson, 709 Gail St. Charleston.

Charleston is Bicentennial City

CHARLESTON — Charleston has been selected as a Bicentennial City and will participate in the year- long celebration of the 200th birthday of our country, according to an announcement received this week from the Missouri Bicentennial Commission.

Dr. Robert L. Frazier has been appointed chairman of the local commission and Mrs. Velna Brown will serve as secretary.

The Bicentennial Commission was established by the federal government in 1966. Each state has a separate commission which selects cities to be accepted as a Bicentennial city.

In a meeting at City Hall Tuesday night called by the chairman, representatives of civic clubs and organizations selected Oct. 4 as the date for the presentation of the Bicentennial Flag. This date has been approved by the Missouri commission.

Additional details of the many activities scheduled for the celebration will be announced later.

What's the law?

By JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.

Night watchman Willie was making his rounds through a factory when he suddenly heard the frantic barking of his pet dog, Murray. It seemed that Murray, not too surefooted anyway, had fallen into a river that flowed past the factory.

Flipping off his jacket, Willie dived into the icy waters to effect a rescue. As it developed, however, Murray proved to be a better swimmer than floundering Willie. While the paddling canine managed to reach shore unassisted, waterlogged Willie had to be hauled out of the drink just as he was going down for the proverbial third time.

Soggy and unable to report to work for a long time, Willie applied for a Workman's Compensation award.

"Sorry," he was told, "but your being laid up is not the result of your employment. Diving into a river to rescue a dog was not part of your job."

"You're wrong," was Willie's answer. "A night watchman without a dog is like bacon without eggs. He helps make the rounds and, in truth, is a sniffing co- worker. Consequently, in attempting to rescue Murray, I was performing a duty owed to any fellow employe."

Denied the award, Willie doggedly took the matter to court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you grant Willie a Workman's Compensation award?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that a dog is not considered a night watchman's fellow worker. Therefore, concluded the judge, Willie had no duty to dive into the river to rescue Murray – particularly when he should have realized that Murray was in no danger of drowning to begin with.

"When my son said 'nuclear expert', I thought he meant graduate school. He meant joining the Navy!"

Mr. J. Jarabek, Lake Oswego, Oregon.

"At first I was surprised", remembers Mr. Jarabek, "because I'd never heard of joining the Navy to get nuclear training. Then I found out that more than 70% of the nuclear reactors in the country today are operated by Navy men."

This year, the Navy will again accept about 200 outstanding college graduates for its Nuclear Propulsion Officer Candidate (NUPOC) Program. Those who get in will have the chance to become experts in the field of nuclear power—through a training program designed specifically by the Navy and proven successful.

Could your son make it?

Because nuclear training is one of the toughest programs in the Navy, he must have a solid foundation in engineering, mathematics or physics. He must be able to handle advanced technology, learning all aspects of nuclear plant theory and operation at a rapid pace. And of course, he must demonstrate the qualities which typify an officer in the U.S. Navy.

Once in the program, your son will be well-paid for the ability and dedication it requires. Starting salary in the Nuclear Program is comparable with salaries given to junior executives by private companies—and career advancement opportunities are outstanding.

If your son is still in college, it's even better for him. If he qualifies and is selected for the program right now, we start paying him (over $500 a month) during his senior year in college.

What do you think? Does Navy nuclear training sound like the kind of program your son could qualify for—or be interested in? If so, mail the coupon below. Or call the Nuclear Desk (toll-free) at 800-841-8000 anytime. The Navy

The weekly-one- hour series deals with the contrasting approaches to life of this unlikely pair of truckers as they travel through various cities across the country.

NBC-TV PROGRAM HIGHLIGHT SEPT 4

"IBM PRESENTS CLARENCE DARROW" — Henry Fonda stars as the famed trial lawyer in this acclaimed one-man stage play by David W. Rintels, based on Irving Stone's book, "Clarence Darrow for the Defense." (Color)

Henry Fonda will bring his highly acclaimed stage performance as the famed trial lawyer to television in "IBM Presents Clarence Darrow," a 90-minute special to be colorcast on the NBC Television Network Wednesday, Sept. 4 (8:30-10 p.m. CDT).

The special is a play, not a reading or concert, written as dialogue rather than a monologue, with Fonda's side of the dialogue suggesting the answers from the individuals who are addressed but not seen or heard.

SOPHIA LOREN, MICHAEL YORK, SARAH MILES (IN THEIR TV ACTING DEBUTS), HAL HOLBROOK, RICHARD BURTON, HENRY FONDA, FAYE DUNAWAY, DAVID NIVEN AND RICHARD CHAMBERLAIN AMONG STARS OF DRAMA SPECIALS DUE ON NBC-TV

Stars of Variety Specials Include Bob Hope, Ann-Margret, Jack Benny, Bing Crosby, Dean Martin, Burt Reynolds, Andy Williams, Flip Wilson

Internationally famous performers will bring to TV some of the world's greatest stories and plays -- contemporary and classic, fictional and drawn from history – when they star in specials to be colorcast on the NBC Television Network during the 1974-75 season. In addition, many of America's favorite entertainers will headline variety specials in the new season.

Included in the lineup of major NBC-TV specials are:

– The television acting debut of Sophia Loren in Noel Coward's "Brief Encounter" (which co-stars Robert Shaw);

-- A two-hour adaptation, with music, of Charles Dickens's "Great Expectations," starring Michael York, Sarah Miles (making their TV acting debuts) and James Mason;

-- The six- part dramatization of Carl Sandburg's Pulitizer Prize-winning six- volume biography of Abraham Lincoln, with Hal Holbrook as the Great Emancipator;

-- Richard Burton portraying Winston Churchill in a new drama drawn from "The Gathering Storm," first volume of Sir Winston's memoirs of World War II;

-- Henry Fonda in the TV production of his latest stage triumph, "Clarence Darrow";

-- Richard Chamberlain starring in the new, two-hour version of the Alexandre Dumas classic, "The Count of Monte Cristo";

-- James Earl Jones as the star of a story of hope and determination, "The Cay";

-- A roster of variety specials headlining such applauded entertainers as Bob Hope, Ann-Margret, Jack Benny, Bing Crosby, Dean Martin, Wayne Newton, Burt Reynolds, George Segal, Andy Williams and Flip Wilson.

Other stars of the specials to be seen on NBC-TV include Eddie Albert, Dame Judith Anderson, Maurice Evans, Anne Francis, Tammy Grimes, Anthony Hopkins, Margaret Leighton, Robert Morley, Anthony Quayle, Flora Robson, Sada Thompson, Simon Ward and James Whitmore.

William F. Storke, Vice President, Special Programs, NBC-TV, said: "This is by no means a complete list of stars or specials. But it is representative of our planning and an indication of our commitment to make 1974-75 the most ambitious season for this network in the history of specials -- a programming form which NBC-TV pioneered 20 years ago.

"A capsule of the quality, diversity and star power of our specials is seen in some of the shows scheduled for presentation just prior to Premiere Week: Henry Fonda in 'Clarence Darrow' on Sept. 4; 'Peggy Fleming Visits the Soviet Union' Sept. 5; the first of the 'Sandburg's Lincoln' specials with Hal Holbrook as Lincoln on Sept. 6; the Miss American Pageant and an Andy Williams show on Sept. 7.

STAR SPECIALS

Peggy Fleming fans will get a chance to see her again when her acclaimed special, "Peggy Fleming Visits the Soviet Union," in which the skating star shares the spotlight with top Soviet artists, will be colorcast once more as a "Bell System Family Theatre" attraction Thursday, Sept. 5 (7-8 p.m. CDT).

* * *

Andy Williams is set for two specials. First, he will star in a musical variety hour to be colorcast Saturday, Sept. 7, preceding the Miss America Pageant. Then, in December, Andy again will present his Christmas celebration with members of his family.

DRAMA SPECIALS

Hal Holbrook stars as Abraham Lincoln in "Sandburg's Lincoln," six specials embracing Carl Sandburg's Pulitzer Prize-winning six- volume biography of the Great Emancipator. Sada Thompson co-stars as Mary Todd Lincoln. The programs are keyed to America's Bicentennial celebration. The first special in the series is to be colorcast Friday, Sept. 6 (9-11 p.m. CDT). Sponsors for the six programs are the American Bankers Association and Eli Lilly and Company.

"Blessed is he who has found his work; let him ask no other blessedness. His is the greatest of all."

—Thomas Carlyle

Labor, said a wise man, preserves us from three great evils ... weariness, vice and want. It also serves as an excellent measure of strength and prosperity ... especially when a nation's people are independent and proud of earning a fair day's wage for a fair day's work. Today, we take time time from our jobs to pay our grateful tribute to the American ethic that dignifies honest labor and knows that work is love made visible.

Ford says he will encourage jobs that pay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Ford got a warm welcome to Ohio's biggest campus today where he told 2,500 members of a graduating class that his administration will help young people "get a job that makes sense as well as money."

Ford was applauded frequently by some 10,000 Ohio State seniors, relatives and friends attending the graduation ceremony in the school's basketball fieldhouse.

The only signs of dissent were placards critical of the nation's Cyprus policy, held up by a handful of demonstrators outside the hall.

Speaking at summer commencement exercises, Ford said too many college graduates find a lack of job opportunities for their skills and, after further study and the acquisition of new talents, are told they are overqualified for employment.

"Although this administration will not make promises it cannot keep," he said, "I do want to pledge one thing to you here and now: I will do everything in my power to bring education and employers together in a new climate of credibility — an atmosphere in which universities turn scholars out and employers turn them on."

Ford said the Labor Department soon will announce a new program of grants to state and local governments "to provide data on occupations available and to help channel potential employes into positions which are not only personally satisfying but financially rewarding."

He also said he has asked the secretaries of labor and of health, education and welfare to report to him on "new ways to bring the world of work and the institutions of education closer together."

Ford said "skills and intellect must harmonize so that the wheels of industry not only hum but sing."

Ford said he will ask Congress next year to extend hiring laws dealing with both vocational and higher education.

"Both are essential," he said, "because we need new jobs and new skills."

Speaking of the major economic problems facing his audience and the rest of the country, The President said:

"We must make extraordinary efforts to supply our know-how, our capital, our technology and our human resources to increase productivity at a faster pace. Inflation is creating a national state of anxiety. Productivity must improve if we are to have a less inflationary economy. In the long run, it is the only way we can raise wages without inflationary price increases."

3 cars damaged in chase as police pursue suspect

Joe Garrett, 21, of Bell City Route One was being held without bond in city jail this morning after he was arrested following a high speed chase through town Thursday night that ended when police officers shot out the tires on his car.

During the chase two police cars were damaged when one struck the other, and a private car driven by an off-duty policeman was damaged when it was struck in the side by Garrett's car.

Police said the chase began shortly before 10 p.m. Thursday when Garrett was seen allegedly trying to break into an apartment at 241 W. Kathleen Ave.

During the chase Garrett's car struck a car driven by off-duty officer Charles Sherrard at the corner of New Madrid Street and Malone Ave. Sherrard was southbound on New Madrid when Garrett's car, traveling at high speed and without lights, came around the corner and struck Sherrard's car.

Sherrard jumped out and fired his revolver twice at Garrett's car.

The shots ricocheted off the car and one went through a window at the Sterling store.

Later in the chase a squad car driven by officer Gary Brown struck an unmarked

Pemiscot authorities search for body of stabbing victim

CARUTHERSVILLE — The Pemiscot County sheriff's department is trying to locate the body of a man believed to have been stabbed to death on Aug. 23, according to Sheriff Thad O. Shelly.

Shelly said the search began after Sam Ballard, 22, of Caruthersville came to the sheriff's office and said he had killed a man who helped rob him of $85.

According to Shelly, Ballard's clothing was bloody and he had a long, blood-stained knife he said he had used to stab his assailant, one of three men who offered him a ride across town at midnight.

During the scuffle in the car, Ballard said the other men took his money and fled in a 1960 Cadillac with Illinois license plates.

"The man convinced us that he was in trouble and had stabbed a colored man, but we have not been able to come up with any thing," Shelly said.

The sheriff said the car the men fled in has not been located and a check of every hospital in Southeast Missouri has failed to locate a black man who was treated for serious injury.

"From the description that Ballard gave us, the man would have to be dead or seriously injured," Shelly said.

According to the sheriff, Ballard was not injured and no charges have been filed against him at the present time.

"This is a very strange case... but we will continue our investigation," Shelly remarked.

Center given grant

The Sikeston Child Development Center has been approved for the special food services program by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, according to Mrs. Keith Collins, administrator.

The program provides meals for children from low-income families whose parents work or take vocational training. The center is located at the Lincoln School building, 229 Westgate St.

Judge Marshall Craig, chairman of the development center, said the grant will save the center about $1,200 annually.

Any low- income mother who must be away from home during the day because of work or vocational training may apply for the free day care and child development at the center.

Mrs. Collins said the center currently has a waiting list but some enrollment changes will be made with the beginning of public school kindergarten.

The center offers a complete curriculum of educational, physical and social activities for 3 and 4-year- olds from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on week days, she said.

The center is in its sixth year of operation.

Morehouse man kills himself

MOREHOUSE — Suicide, by a self- inflicted gunshot wound, caused the death of Ellis Newton Agee, 58, of 309 Benton St. sometime between 3:30 and 6 a.m. today, according to New Madrid County Probate Judge John R. Bailey, acting coroner during the absence of Coroner Gene Clayton and illness of Sheriff W. L. "Cowboy" Ramsey.

Judge Bailey said Agee apparently shot himself once in the right temple with a .22- caliber automatic pistol, and the bullet exited through the left temple.

Agee's body was discovered by his wife on the floor of a room in the back of the house. The gun was found near his feet.

Judge Bailey said Mrs. Agee stated she did not hear the shot fired and began a search for her husband when she awoke and he was not in bed. She reported she knew

Jimmy Sloan, 24, of Route Two was arrested at 9:45 p.m. Thursday, three hours after he escaped from the city jail.

Sloan had been arrested earlier Thursday for forgery. About 6:45 p.m., he was allowed to go to the telephone to make a call. When he got to the phone, he bolted up the stairs and out the door.

He was arrested three hours later at Red's Tavern, 109 W. Malone Ave.

Burglars hit 2 homes

BLOOMFIELD — Two Dexter burglaries and an Advance break-in were reported Thursday afternoon to the Stoddard County sheriff's department.

The Terry Randall home, located north of Dexter, was burglarized sometime Thursday afternoon while the Randalls were away for a short time.

Taken in the burglary were a tool box, guitar, rug, vacuum cleaner, arrows, gloves, two throw- type pillows and a sleeping bag.

A side window had been pried open.

A coin collection and jewelry were taken sometime Thursday from the home of Martha Ragsdale south of Dexter.

Sheriff Ralph Mouser said the thieves apparently took the time to separate the more expensive jewelry from costume jewelry. He said Mrs. Ragsdale kept the more expensive pieces mixed in with the costume jewelry, which was left behind.

He said the latch had been broken on the back door.

The State Highway Department shed located south of Advance was also broken into sometime Thursday. However, nothing was discovered missing. Entry was gained by cutting the lock with bolt cutters.

Accidents injure 6

Six persons suffered minor injuries in two area traffic accidents Thursday, the highway patrol announced today.

Four persons were hurt at 7:40 a.m. Thursday on Highway 61 north of Longtown when a northbound car driven by Marvin Martin Schmidt, 46, of Frchna collided with a car driven south by Arnold Leo Roth, 51, of Altenburg.

Both drivers and Gerald Albert Burroughs, 34, of Altenburg, a passenger in the Schmidt vehicle, and Gilbert C. Miesner, 59, of Wittenberg, a passenger in the Roth car, were treated for minor injuries at Perry County Hospital in Perryville.

Hershel James Ledbetter, 43, of Essex suffered minor injuries at 10:40 a.m. Thursday two miles east of Dexter at an intersection on a gravel road when his eastbound pickup truck struck the right side of a car driven south by Fearl Euris Isaacs, 55, of Morley who also received minor injuries.

Both were taken to Dexter Memorial Hospital.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

If you engage in something wrong, and are not whipped for it, how bold you become in following your wrong course.

As we observe Labor Day 1974 on the first Monday of September, it is in honor of this nation's working men and women.

What bothers us, at times, is that some of our young people may not know that every great man has had to work hard to achieve greatness. Success is not handed to anyone on a silver platter.

In recent years, unfortunately, it has become fashionable to do as little as possible for as much as possible. This was not the old American philosophy, which held that work itself was rewarding, even necessary for the full enjoyment of life.

America became a great nation because its people believed that, if a job was worth doing, it was worth doing well; that a man's diligence, his price in performance, and his dedication to work were all qualities of character greatly to be admired.

There is a moral to be drawn. One writer puts it, "He who would leave footprints in the sands of time will have to wear work shoes."

LABOR DAY, 1974

There is a scent of change in the wind with the arrival of Labor Day. For Americans, the last golden moments of this final three- day summer holiday barely fade into memory when Autumn moves in, turning our thoughts away from watermelon, tennis and the like.

Suddenly, it is time to head back to school, and a new whirl of sports and homework fill the evenings. As the youngsters tackle the classroom with renewed vigor, the adults will hopefully head into the season with a sense of rededication to the principles of good, honest work. Today, as during the first commemoration of Labor Day in 1882, the importance of the working man and woman's efforts deserve recognition. Their hard work makes a high standard of living a reality for their families and country.

Labor Day, September 2, 1974, can be a day of new beginnings for all of us. How we respond to the challenges around us will decide how successful we are in attaining our goals -- whether educational or career-oriented.

I hope that Mr. Harrison is successful in carrying out the changes that they are suggesting by the committee, because they are made up of really top people such as Lang Rogers, Joplin; Bob White of Mexico; and lots of other people that I know and I know that whatever they do is for the best. I hope that when it comes time to holding the meeting in Southeast Missouri to explain what the committee arrives at that it is held in Sikeston instead of Cape Girardeau because there are more people in the Bootheel area of Southeast Missouri than there is in North Cape Girardeau.

OIL STILL A GOOD BUY

According to an article in Oil and Gas Journal, crude oil and natural gas are still good buys in today's marketplace. To prove it, a geologist in Texas roamed the aisles of local stores and computed the per- gallon cost of a number of common items. For instance:

100-proof "Old Confidence" — $30 a gallon; baby lotion — $7.92; orange juice — $1.85; milk — $1.65; honey — $1; laundry bleach — $.58; distilled water — $.49.

By comparison, crude oil is officially price- control at 12½ cents a gallon and natural gas (with its heating value converted to crude oil equivalent) is 3 cents a gallon.

It sure is lucky that we don't have to heat the house with baby lotion or run the family jalopy on orange juice.

CIVIL RIGHTS GETS 'OVER THE HUMP'

Because she happened to be listed first in a civil rights suit filed by 32 other plaintiffs in Topeka, Kan., Linda Brown's name was to become a household word in America in the mid-1950s.

It was on May 17, 1954, that the U. S. Supreme Court handed down its unamimous and historic decision in Brown vs. Board of Education, ruling that "in the field of education the doctrine of 'separate but equal' has no place. Separate educational facilities are inherently unequal."

Twenty years after Linda Brown won the right not to have to walk six blocks to catch a bus to take her another 15 blocks to an all-black elementary school, Topeka, as well as other cities in the nation, is again in trouble with the courts and the government precisely because of this hard-won right of black children to attend the schools nearest their homes — and again because such schools are usually all black.

The issue now is not that of busing to preserve segregation but busing to promote integration.

Not everyone considers this to be progress.

The persistence of "de facto" segregation resulting from the nation's housing patterns, as distinguished from the "de jure" segregation that has been abolished from the law, is only one of the things blacks point to as evidence that they are still far from achieving first- class citizenship.

Despite tremendous civil rights gains by blacks in the past two decades, many of them exist on paper only. In practice, true equality is still a long way off.

It is difficult to measure the actual state of racial progress in America today. In the field of school desegregation, the South now leads the nation with approximately half of its black students attending predominately white schools. The national figure is only about 36 per cent. Yet along the way, many black educators in the South lost their jobs with the closing of black schools, and they were not hired by white schools.

Statistics show blacks continuing to lag in such categories as income, years of schooling completed and representation in the professions, and to lead in others like unemployment and substandard housing — while at the same time showing significant improvement in all these areas.

It is, in some ways, a matter of whether one views the cup of civil rights as half full or half empty, whether one sees the level as stagnant or falling or rising, and, if rising, how fast one believes it ought to be rising.

Perhaps the best measure of civil rights progress in America is the change in peoples' attitudes in the past 20 years, for it is on this that all future progress will depend.

Today, none but a tiny core of fanatics still preaches the inherent inferiority of blacks. Prejudice and discrimination exist, and p robably always will exist to some degree. But the vast majority of white Americans supports, at least passively, the ideal of equality. And in the light of four centuries of black- white relations in America, that is progress.

If the majority remains oblivious to the very real inequality that still prevails, it is not necessary due to conscious prejudice but because most whites honestly believe that court decisions like Brown vs. Board of Education have solved the problem.

This, of course, puts the burden of continued progress on blacks. But that, fairly or unfairly, is where it has always been.

To paraphrase Jefferson, the price of equality is eternal struggle. Black Americans today continue to struggle, and if they have not yet won everything, they have in the past 20 years won the major victories.

DIFFICULT TO BELIEVE THIS

Advocates of raising the legal interest rate maximum in Missouri to more than the present 82 claim that it will revive the building and construction industry, the purchase of old or new homes, etc, etc, etc.

This is difficult to believe in view of conditions in other states where the interest rate has been rasied. They continue to be in the same building and buying doldrums as Missouri.

It seems to come down to this:

Those who have the money want the rate raised.

Those who have not the money and need to borrow some, can't afford the higher rates that would result, and they don't want higher rates.

The outcry of the money lenders seems to us to largely parallel that of the oil companies, who held their products off the market and created a shortage -- until they got higher prices, and greater profits.

POISONING PEOPLE'S CAPITALISM

After World War II, the expression "people's capitalism" was frequently used to describe the fundamental nature of the American system -- a system in which a great "middle class" of American citizens provided the investment dollars to build the backbone of U. S. productivity.

The average Americans became a major source of the investment capital that developed new industries, expanded old ones and contributed to a steadily rising standard of living.

Millions of people came to own bonds and shares of stock in the oil industry, the utility industry, the transportation industry, and all the other enterprises that provide the employment, products and services that make the United States what it is today.

Not long ago, Robert Sobel, writing in a dispatch of the Los Angeles Times - Washington Post Service, discussed how the decline in the stock market of the last year or so affects 31 million Americans -- and how ultimately the country will be affected.

He observed: "Twenty years ago the talk at cocktail parties was of dividends and 'sound common stocks.' Ten years later one heard much of new issues, growth situations and developing technologies, of small companies started by MIT professors in garages, that would be 'tomorrow's IBM' Nowadays the talk is of gold ... commercial paper, certificates of deposit, jewelry and art as investments, and Swiss bank accounts. There is hardly a word about stocks -- even as dividend payers."

In other words, the backbone of the capital formation process the great body of middle class Americans has been discouraged by the mismanagement of the nation's economy -- endless attacks on business, on profits and the ever- increasing inroads of the tax collector on such things as capital gains.

The emphasis today, as Mr. Soebel observes, is not on investing in tomorrow's opportunity, but in hedging against today's inflation.

There must be a rejuvenation of investor confidence, or we will all face a desolate future.

IMPROVEMENTS IN OSHA URGED BY MANUFACTURERS

Employers are "overwhelmed by the volume and complexity of Occupational Safety and Health Administration standards and regulations," according to E. Douglas Kenna, president, National Association of Manufacturers.

In a keynote address at the first annual conference of Occupational Hazards Magazine, Mr. Kenna suggested an immediate government investigation to amend or revoke Federal standards which bear little relevance to occupational safety and health and require huge expenditures for questionable benefits.

He also suggested that the comment period on proposed new rules should be extended to 90 days rather than the present 30- day period.

Commending the administrators of OSHA for resisting the urgings of organized labor and others "to bring a centralized and punitive philosophy to enforcement of the law," Mr. Kenna also suggested that:

. OSHA should be required to publish an economic impact statement with the publication of each rule, to indicate probable costs of compliance.

. Mandatory penalties for first- instance serious violations should be made discretionary, and discretionary penalties for first- instance non-serious violations should be dropped altogether to encourage corrective action.

. Overlap of OSHA jurisdiction with other federal agencies such as the Department of Transportation, the Coast Guard, and the Food and Drug Administration should be reveiwed now to relieve frustrations of employers faced with conflicting federal orders.

. The Department of Labor should offer employers on-site consultative services by qualified safety engineers and industrial hygienists.

. OSHA compliance officers should be required to advise employers that Small Business Administration (SBA) loans are available to assist in remedying health or safety violations.

Mr. Kenna pointed out that the health and safety record of American industry has been remarkable, with the on the job death rate declining more than 50 per cent since 1938. He expressed the belief that continued application of space-age systems analysis techniques to safety will result in even further employe safety improvements.

BOMBER AT WORK

The senseless bombing of an air terminal in Los Angeles and the planting of another bomb in a bus depot have terrorized a great city and reminded all of us that the internal security of this nation is far from perfect. Similar incidents rocked London several months ago. Probably no form of crime is more terrifying nor more hideous. It may be recalled that the Mad Bomber of New York went unidentified and unapprehended for years.

Admittedly, there criminal offenses are tough to crack. The criminal intelligence unit of the Los Angeles police department is one of the finest in the world and it is unlikely that the bomber will get away with his foul deeds. Still, we are reminded that most police departments are undermanned and underpaid and not enough is being done by the public to support them. If the law enforcement agencies of this nation are given the tools and the manpower, they will get the job done.

There should be fresh resolution on the part of all of us who want protection in our homes and on our jobs to heed the warnings of police chiefs and other leaders in the crime fight when they call for bigger budgets to bolster their forces. We should make our officers feel proud of their badges and publicly commend them when they do outstanding work.

Mad bombers have no place in our society. Neither do rapists, burglars, and thieves. Crime can only succeed if we, the public, remain complacent. Internal security is even more precious than security from foreign aggression. HLH

Inside Labor

Inside White House: Behind the Scenes of The Anti-Inflation Summits

WASHINGTON — Trying to cover the White House anti-inflation super- summit and all the little summits is like trying to referee an octopus wrestling match. And then there are my beloved shadowy sources, the eminence grise economists who talk happily of a "grab bag of micro- issues."

But basically, after talking with the organization men, the input team and those in charge of getting all those sensitive national leaders of labor, industry and agriculture into the proper front row seats so no one's feelings are hurt, it all boils down to this:

President Ford hopes to make the whole process one of national common fact- finding -- and not fault-finding.

Thus when the super- summit anti- inflation conference of some 800 of the land's leading minds adjourns the late afternoon of Sept. 28, the world will know that it literally will take several years to slow the rocketing inflation. Repeat -- several years.

There will be no solutions.

The best which can be wrought will be some mechanism, some methodology, some commission to seek a series of solutions, a way of selective and strategic interventions in critical areas, a common effort to reduce prices, interest rates and wage demands.

Among the "macro- options" -- the big choices -- will be a drive to increase energy supplies, by increasing utility rates to the consumer so the power companies can pay more for fuel so there will be an incentive to bring the coal, gas and oil out of the ground. And then a parallel effort to try to get a cut in oil prices, which is basic.

There's much talk of increasing the money supply, 4 per cent to 7½ per cent range – on which, in view of my own checking account balance, I'm no authority.

Yet the point being made in White House circles -- and indeed it's true -- is that Operation Summit already is a success.

The isolation of presidential decision- making has been smashed.

For the first time in years Congress and the executive branch are working together. And the labor leaders are in on the act. The joint Congressional- White House summit steering committee has been meeting regularly. Sen. Hubert Humphrey and the Ford administration are breakfasting like Richard Burton and his latest. The national AFL-CIO has been dispatching its young Secretary Treasurer Lane Kirkland to confer with economic counselor Ken Rush and summit executive director Bill Seidman in the White House. Thus the political climate is right – and right for action.

President Ford decided to chair two mini- meetings – one with the economists and one with labor -- for good reasons. The economists will give him his micro- and macro- options. And he will be able to face the nation's top 15 or 20 most powerful labor leaders on the morning of Sept. 11 in the Cabinet Room and tell them like it is in his very own fashion. After that it will be up to them to go out and tell their people to cool it.

They'll all be told the truth -- and it is hoped that when all the mini- summit conferees gather in the big open mass meeting under President Ford's chairmanship on Sept. 27, while the TV cameras grind and the print newsmen scribble, the hurting truth will be observed and absorbed by the American public.

There are no panaceas. Dollar- dribbling inflation is worsening daily.

There is need for personal restraint, money restraint and ever- increasing supplies of necessities -- which means speeded productivity, or a full day's work for a full day's pay.

Ford and company will tell everyone they'll try voluntary action. But no one expects this to work.

If it doesn't, regardless of what Jerry Ford is saying, there will eventually be the toughest wage and price controls any nation has yet had.

Obviously the new Council on Wage and Price Stability will fail. First, the Congress unwittingly and in haste wrote a bad bill. It will be a silly operation. It should be redrawn. It will have no prestige. How can it jawbone? How can it admonish big labor and capital?

The bill as passed and signed was fouled up. The new Wage-Price Council is staffed at too low a level. So it will be sitting in the White House with a small band of monitors directed by a secondary echelon chief and will be as futile as my trying to outpunch Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier in one ring.

So no labor or industrialist force will heed. It will be much the same in other fields. And the best the White House will be able to do will be to go into the immediate crisis areas such as food, housing, construction, fuel, etc.

Thus the mini- summits become vital. Every force and power bloc in every national phase and area will be faced right on by the President or his surrogates. Business and labor alike will be told they'll have to come up with their own answers.

They will be told that actually the budget can't be cut effectively until the 1976-77 fiscal year. It takes time to slow down and hush the hollering for federal spending.

How can all this be done? By getting the super- summit to agree to let a powerful tri-partite government- labor-management commission take over, take the stick out of the closet and clobber whenever necessary. And this is just the beginning.

JACK ANDERSON and LES WHITTEN SAYS: First Class Male

WASHINGTON — Postmaster General Ted Klassen has built himself the most luxurious office in Washington with taxpayer funds, but regularly leaves it for personal junkets, also courtesy of Uncle Sam.

The impulsive Klassen, who has just warned that the price of a stamp is going up again, spent $12,870 on 32 trips to 18 cities in 1973, a travel record that almost puts him in a class with Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

Kissinger has been exhaustedly settling wars; Klassen, on the other hand, has been visiting his various real estate holdings around the country.

"I'm going to take a little trip and look at my property," the peripatetic postmaster is fond of telling colleagues just before a junket. He owns handsome properties in Florida, California and Connecticut, and cloaks his travel there as "official business."

Although junketing by government officials is supposed to be on the public record, Klassen has refused to give us his vouchers for 1974. For fiscal 1973, however, we have tallied up at least $2,000 spent by Klassen on visits to the sites of his real estate.

Most often he justified the 1973 trips to Florida, Hartford and the West Coast by saying he wanted to visit local postal officials. Mysteriously, his own records for 1973 show he visited only one other local postal official, while he journeyed eight times to or near his far- flung properties.

Even Klassen's wife gets in on the act. The Postal Service picked up a $340 tab when she was the guest of honor at the National Association of Postmasters convention in Salt Lake City.

Meanwhile, the postal service is saddled with a $500 million deficit and service continues to decline. Unless Congress bails him out, the free- wheeling postmaster will ask for another rate hike soon. It may cost 13 cents to mail a letter and help underwrite Ted Klassen's royal way of life.

RIGHTS REBEL: Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Caspar Weinberger permitted the University of California to keep $50 million in federal contracts despite advice from a top HEW civil rights lawyer that his actions were illegal and would set a bad precedent.

The giant university in Weinberger's home state had been accused for more than a year of discrimination against women and blacks in both academic and nonacademic jobs. When Berkeley still couldn't get its house in order by this March, HEW's Assistant Civil Rights counsel Theodore Miles wrote a detailed legal opinion for Weinberger.

The school, said Miles, should be forced to show cause why its government contracts should not be canceled as is prescribed by law for those who discriminate.

But Weinberger's general counsel, John Rhinelander, bucked the memo back to Miles, scrawling on it, "Either hold or destroy." Instead, it was slipped out of the files and into our hands.

When we reached Rhinelander, he insisted that he had transmitted Miles' views to Weinberger verbally. He said he ordered the memo destroyed or pigeonholed only because it was no longer necessary. There was no intention to conceal the fact that Miles though Weinberger was acting illegally in not moving firmly against the University of California, he said.

Miles, Rhinelander said, was simply overruled on legal grounds which had nothing to do with Weinberger's personal political ambitions in California. HEW Civil Rights chief Peter Holmes also spoke up for Weinberger, saying Miles' view had been disputed by other HEW lawyers.

Footnote: Although the University of California can still improve its record on discrimination, it has made good progress under the threat of losing its $50 million. It is now hiring qualified blacks and women at a rate well above the national average.

CHURCH SMEAR: Not surprisingly, liberal Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, is being victimized by a vicious John Birch Society campaign. What is surprising is that Church's Republican opponent Bob Smith has not condemned the Birchers' smear.

As many as 100,000 reprints of a Birch Society article are being circulated in an effort to discredit Church on Vietnam. The rightwing circular quotes Church as saying that America's Vietnam "commitments solemnly made must be kept, whether wisely or unwisely." However, it tops off Church's next sentence, "But there never, at any time, has been any commitment on the part of the United States to fight the war in South Vietnam."

This is a little like quoting Abe Lincoln as saying he would carry on his work "with malice," without adding the words "toward none."

Even Smith's own GOP primary challengers denounced the Birch smear campaign. Now, we have discovered a clue to Bob Smith's timidity toward the Birchers, who once mounted the same kind of campaign against President Dwight Eisenhower.

Smith has received handsome contributions of $1,000 each from Birch Society executive board members S. J. Agnew and Floyd Pacton. Smith was also once chief aide to Rep. Steve Symms, R-Idaho, a Birch darling who keynoted the group's convention in Chicago this June.

Stoddard schools show student decline

BLOOMFIELD — Several Stoddard County school districts report a decrease in student enrollment from last year's figures. One exception is the Dexter school district, where Supt. Thurston Hill attributes an increase of 62 students to increased industry in the Dexter area bringing new families into the district.

The Richland district suffered the biggest decrease among the schools that have announced enrollment figures, enrolling 50 fewer students than last year. However, school officials expect this figure to change as additional students enroll following the Labor Day holiday.

Bernie reported a loss of 30 students, Advance is down 10 and Puxico lost three.

The Bell City district will not make an official comparison until the end of the first month of school, and the Bloomfield district, which wound up its first week of classes today, will not announce its enrollment figures until next week.

President field narrows to 4 at SeMo State

CAPE GIRARDEAU — The search for a successor to Dr. Mark Scully as president of Southeast Missouri State University has narrowed to four candidates and should be completed within 30 days.

R. K. Swindle of Senath, Mo., a member of the university's board of regents, confirmed Thursday the board is "rapidly approaching" naming a successor to Scully, who will retire next year after 18 years as president.

"We've not made a final decision, but we're in a position to do so very soon," Swindle said.

A screening committee in May narrowed a list of 100 applicants to six, from which the board has been "actively considering" a successor, he said.

LONDON (AP) — Challenged to sample rush-hour conditions on the subway, London Transport chairman Sir Richard Way spent 21 minutes being jostled on a commuter-jammed platform.

The chairman, who said he uses the subway but not at rush hours, conceded: "It does look a little crowded."

Prairie man found guilty; gets 30 days

CHARLESTON — In a trial by court Thursday, Roger Mannon of East Prairie was found guilty on a misdemeanor stealing charge and was assessed a 30- day jail sentence by Magistrate T. J. Brown Jr.

Mannon, who has been in jail since being arrested for the July 9 stealing incident, was denied probation on the charge since he was already on three-year probation on a statutory rape charge. He was given credit for time served and the matter was referred to his probation officer.

The stealing charge against Mannon was filed in connection with the theft of an $18 pair of boots from Fred's Store in East Prairie. Testifying during the trial were Jegg Cogdill, an employe of the store who witnessed the theft; Jerry Messer, manager of the store; and Charles Morgan, the arresting officer.

Testifying in his own defense, Mannon said he went into the store with another East Prairie youth, Mark Huey, to try on a pair of boots. After putting on the boots, he said they walked toward the front of the store and noticed a car out front and went outside hoping to get a ride home.

Mannon said he tried to explain to Messer that he intended to come back to the store on July 12 and pay for them and that he was only trying them on to see if they fit. Mannon said he became nervous and ran after Messer, told him he was in trouble.

In a preliminary hearing for James Poyner of Charleston on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, Judge Brown delayed his ruling until Sept. 5.

Poyner is accused of assaulting Jamie Small of Wyatt with a chain from a chain saw. Testifying during the preliminary were Small, Thomas Bailey, Morris Griggs and Louis Culver of Wyatt and Sheriff W. J. "Pedro" Simmons.

The alleged incident occurred the night of July 5. According to Small, Poyner and some other youths followed him from Charleston to Wyatt on Highway 60 attempting to make him stop his car. Small said he stopped at Brown's Garage in Wyatt and a fight broke out.

Thomas Bailey testified he was at Brown's Garage when the youths drove up, and said he witnessed the fight. He said he saw the Poyner youth with the chain, which had plastic tape on one end forming a handle, but he did not see Poyner swing the chain at Small. He said he told Poyner not to hit Small with the chain.

Griggs testified he was driving by the garage when he noticed the fight and, after stopping and getting out of his vehicle, he said he saw Poyner swing the chain at Small at least twice. He said Poyner did not hit Small with the chain because it was tangled up, but that he did try to hit him.

The incident reportedly arose over Small calling a girl a name.

A felony charge of molesting a minor with immoral intent against Fred Tidwell of Bertrand was continued to Sept. 5 to allow Tidwell time to employ an attorney. Bond was set at $1,000.

The charge involves a 13-year- old girl Tidwell is accused of molesting on Aug. 22.

Charles Enlow Koen of Cairo, Ill., pleaded not guilty to a careless and imprudent driving charge and the case was set for trial on Sept. 12. Koen is free on $100 bond.

A common assault charge against George Greer Jr. of Wyatt was continued to Sept. 5 to allow him time to employ an attorney. Greer, who is free on $250 bond, is accused of assault with a knife on Frankie Bostic of Wyatt on Aug. 25.

A preliminary hearing for David Wayne Summers on a charge of stealing was taken off Thursday's docket and continued to Sept. 12 Summers, who is free on $1,500 bond, is accused of stealing $100 from Reichert Oil Co. of Wyatt on July 30.

Disturbing the peace charges brought fines of $31.50 each to Tony Childers, Lionel Hutson, Terry Siggers, Jesse Jackson and Phil Blackman of East Prairie. Larry McCutchen of East Prairie paid a $34.50 fine on the same charge, and a similar charge against Keith Norman of East Prairie was continued to Sept. 5.

Warrants were issued for failure to appear for C. W. Mixon of Wyatt on a charge of driving without an operator's license; and Ronald E. Williams, charged with taking fish by seine and taking fish with commercial fishing equipment without proper permit.

Paying fines for traffic violations were:

Ruby Celestine Gordon of Charleston, speeding, $28; Gerald Steven Kimbro of East Prairie, failure to transfer license, $26; Marion O. Oakley of Wyatt, permitting underage operator to operate motorcycle, $21; Dorris F. Witt of Cape Girardeau, speeding, $26; G. W. Brown of East Prairie, improper parking location, $21; Billy Ray Willis of East Prairie, driving without an operator's license, $26.

Walker of Charleston, defective lights, $21.

Gregory Thomas Patrick of East Prairie was fined $66 for underage possession of five per cent beer. Glenda Murphy paid a $26 fine for violation of the wildlife code. Harman Moss was levied a $66 fine for driving while license suspended.

World News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for President Ford ruled out any tax increase requests for this year but would not do the same for 1975. Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst said it would be unrealistic to expect congressional action on taxes in the remaining weeks of the 1974 session. Asked whether a tax increase to fight inflation would be part of the President's 1975 legislative program, terHorst said this is the "sort of issue a president always has before him" and that tax boosts sometimes are needed "just as a practical governmental matter."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford reaffirmed his opposition to limiting grain exports, even as the Agriculture Department was reporting a surge in corn buying by the Common Market nations. A department spokesman said the nine-nation European market has ordered nearly 368.5 million bushels of corn for the marketing year starting Oct. 1. A week ago, the total for the year was only 204.8 million bushels. But the spokesman termed the increase merely speculative and predicted that much of the corn would not be shipped.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prices that consumers pay for petroleum products may have to be forced up as part of the project to make the United States more self-sufficient in energy, a top Treasury Department official said. Jack F. Bennett, undersecretary for monetary funds, said the government might have to act on prices as a move to cut demand and encourage development of alternative energy sources. Bennett commented a day after President Ford urged that the program, known as Project Independence, be accelerated.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is planning personal meetings with European leaders and looks forward to "a productive and cooperative relationship" despite an edgy exchange with French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing. Ford's views on European relationships were reflected in a deliberately worded White House statement issued two days after Giscard criticized the U.S. President for not mentioning Europe in a major speech to Congress.

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany said that two years of rapid inflation have forced Americans to abandon efforts to improve their living standards "in favor of just plain survival." In his annual Labor Day message, Meany said the problems of inflation and unemployment call out for humanitarian solutions but until now the government has treated the problems as mathematical equations. "It is our hope the new President will see more than just cold, cruel numbers — that he'll see people, not percentages, and that he will move with compassion," the labor chieftain said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A weight-watching President Ford will meet weekly with his doctor for "15-minute chats" to check on his calorie count.

Ford's physician, William Lukash, gave the President a clean bill of health last week but said he needed to trim 5¾ of his 200¾ pounds.

Lukash met with Ford on Thursday and said the President's contact lenses were ready and arranged for a fitting. The President is seldom seen publicly in glasses, but needs them for long-distance sight.

NEW YORK (AP) — Film star Bette Davis has suffered a mild back strain while rehearsing the Bjmadwry-boucd musical "Miss Moffatt."

The play's scheduled performance in Baltimore Sept. 9-21 was canceled, and the first showing is now scheduled for Philadephia on Sept. 23.

A spokesman said Miss Davis, 66, developed pains in her left leg during rehearsals on Tuesday and the following day was admitted to a hospital. The ailment was diagnosed as a back sprain, requiring physical therapy for at least one week.

"Miss Moffatt" is a musical adaptation of "The Corn is Green," in which Miss Davis starred on the screen 29 years ago.

LONDON (AP) — Princess Anne and her husband, Capt. Mark Phillips, have been selected to compete for Britain in the world three-day equestrian event next month.

The event begins Sept. 12 at Burghley in eastern England.

The daughter of Queen Elizabeth II will ride Goodwill as an individual entry for the Raleigh Trophy while her husband competes with the British team on the queen's horse Columbus, it was announced on Thursday.

Phillips won the Raleigh Trophy last year on Maid Marion.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The First Family will spend the Labor Day weekend at the presidential retreat in Camp David, Md.

Accompanying President and Mrs. Ford in their first visit there will be daughter Susan and her friend Gardner Britt of Alexandria, Va., and son Steven and his friend Deedee Jarvis of Alexandria.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential counselor Anne Armstrong has been asked to submit a list of women eligible for top government positions.

"The President is listening and receptive," she said after a 45- minute meeting in the White House with PresidentFord and 27 leading women appointees on Thursday.

apparently worked its way into the walls of the house and then broke through the walls.

Clark told Linnemeyer the house had been hit by lightning earlier in the evening.

Apparently, the family discovered the fire and crawled to the front door, Linnemeyer said. When they opened the door, the fresh oxygen caused the house to explode. The force of the blast blew them out the door and onto the front lawn.

Linnemeyer said the area burned the worst was the back bedroom, indicating the fire and explosion began there.

The television antenna was located outside the back bedroom.

A hospital spokesman said this morning that the condition of the three family members had stabilized and that there no longer seems any real danger of them dying.

Clark, 40, suffered burns over 40 per cent of his body. His wife Jolene, 38, suffered burns over 20 per cent of the body. Their daughter Deborah, 17, was burned over 60 per cent of the body. The father and daughter were listed in critical condition and Mrs. Clark in serious condition following arrival at the St. Louis hospital early Thursday.

A second daughter was away from home at the time of the explosion.

Hinton continued to chase Garrett and, when the police car and Garrett's car were side by side at the corner of Tanner Street and Moore Avenue, Capt. Lawrence Woodard, riding with Hinton, shot out the front and rear tires on the driver's side of Garrett's car.

Police said Garrett had been unable to get into the apartment but allegedly took two shirts off the porch.

Police Chief Leon Culp said information on the chase has been turned over to Prosecuting Attorney Jim Moore for disposition.

The skirt is coming back.

I know this won't choke up women cello players, but it's true. Not only do designers say American women are going to be wearing more skirts and dresses, but the hemlines are going to be longer.

This is bad news in more ways than one. Several years ago, someone figured out as the hemlines go ...so goes the economy. The longer the hemline, the more acute the depression... The shorter the hemline, the greater the country's prosperity.

The way I look at it, with beans at 87 cents a pound I'm stuck with a closet full of blouses.

"What am I going to do with all those short dresses?" I asked Mother.

"Like I always said, 'You can make a skirt shorter,' said Mother. 'But you can't make it longer after it's cut off."

"When did you say that?" I asked.

"When you cut off your winter coat."

"Mother! You can't walk around in a coat with a hem so thick, you look like you're storing rifles in it."

"So, don't yell at me. You're the one with the closet full of blouses."

" Remember Margaret Shelhaas? I went to school with her and when hemlines dropped in 1947, she made new tops for all of her skirts out of muslin, wore long sweaters and never raised her arms."

"Did it work?"

"No, it was miserable. She couldn't try out for cheerleading, mail a letter, wave good -bye, hang up her coat, or comb her hair in public. She finally dropped out of school."

"Because of fake tops on her skirts?"

"Yes. She was failing everything because she never participated in class by raising her hand to answer anything."

"Maybe hemlines won't get too long and you can just slouch for a few years," offered Mother.

"Oh, they're going to get long all right. Remember the economy in 1900 to 1927 and then how skirts went thigh -high by 1928? And how they went down in 1929, and up again in 1940? From '47 to '54 they were mid -calf and in 1967 hemlines went as high as 30 inches."

I was still discussing the problem with my husband last night at a movie when we saw a young girl leanover the drinking fountain.

"I don't ever remember the economy being that good," I said.

"It wasn't," he said dreamily. "But when skirts get that high no one seems to care."

Ann Landers

Maturity definition rerun

Dear Ann Landers: I thought your answer to that 16- year- old girl who had stretch marks was pretty sarcastic and not a bit helpful. The girl told you that her stretch marks were not from childbirth, but from losing weight. She was especially unhappy about the stretch marks on her breasts and thighs.

You said, "Unless you have plans to be a stripper, I can't think of any good reason the stretch marks might interfere with your life."

Well, I'm 17 years old and I DO plan to be a stripper. What advice to you have for me? -- Baby Face June

Dear Face: Take typing or learn a trade so you'll be able to support yourself. The career of a well- paid stripper is about eight years.

Dear Ann Landers: Every now and then you repeat a column when a reader asks for it. I hope you will do me a big favor and rerun your definition of maturity. I had copies made when it first appeared in print and I sent them to my nieces and nephews. They said it meant a lot to them and I'm sure a great many other readers profited from it.

It's been five years now, and I hope you will favor us once more with that very special column. My thanks in advance. -- E.A.D. In New Brunswick, N.J.

Dear E.A.D.: Here it is. Thank you for asking:

Maturity is many things. First, it is the ability to base a judgment on The Big Picture, The Long Haul.

It means being able to pass up fun- for- the - minute and select the course of action which will pay off later. One of the characteristics of infancy is the "I want it NOW" approach. Grown- up people can wait.

Maturity is the ability to stick with a project or a situation until it has been completed. The adult who is constantly changing jobs, changing friends, and changing spouses is immature. He cannot stick it out because he has not grown up. Everything seems to turn sour (or uninteresting) after awhile.

Maturity is the capacity to face unpleasantness, frustration, discomfort and defeat without complaint or collapse. The mature person knows he can't have everything his own way. Life won't allow it. He is able to defer to circumstances, to other people, and to time.

Maturity is the ability to live up to your responsibilities and keep your word. This means being dependable. Dependability equates with personal integrity. Do you mean what you say and say what you mean?

The world is filled with people who can't be counted on. They never seem to come through in the crunch. They are the cop- outs who break promises and substitute alibis for performance. Invariably they show up late -- or not at all. They are confused and disorganized. Their lives are a chaotic maze of unfinished business.

Maturity is the ability to make a decision and stand by it. Immature people spend most of their time exploring endless possibilities and then they do nothing. Action requires courage. And there can be no maturity without courage.

Maturity is the ability to harness your abilities and your energies and to do more than is expected. The mature person refuses to settle for mediocraty. He would rather aim high and miss the mark than aim low and make it. -- Ann Landers

What's prudish? What's O.K.? If you aren't sure, you need some help. It's available in the booklet: "Necking and Petting -- What Are the Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers, P. O. Box 3346, Chicago, Illinois 60654, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self- addressed envelope.

Vows unite Miss Martin, Wooley

Miss Donna Gail Martin and William Ray Wooley were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Aug. 2 in Shady Acres Church of Christ. Minister Manly Luscombe officiated at the double- ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Martin of Blodgett, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wooley of Miner.

The church was decorated with a 15- branch candelabrum flanked on each side by baskets of blue, yellow and white daisies and baby's breath on pedestals. Candles decorated with baby's breath, greenery and ribbon were at the end of the pews in the center aisle.

Pre- nuptial music was provided by recordings of the Harding a cappella choir. Processional and recessional selections were also by the choir. Mrs. Sondra Armour sang, "If" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father. She wore a gown fashioned of dacron polyester organza over taffeta with a slight empire waistline with front midriff accented by lace cutouts and seed pearls. Ruffles, lace and yellow satin ribbon adorned the front and standup collar. Lace cut- outs and seed pearls accented the long sheer sleeves and ruffled cuffs.

The long skirt featured a wide ruffle trimmed with lace and yellow satin ribbon that went into a short train. The back was accented with a Dior bow.

She wore a picture hat trimmed with lace, seed pearls and satin ribbon. She carried a cascade of pixie carnations, yellow roses, baby's breath and ivy.

Preceding the bride was maid of honor Cindy Martin of Blodgett, sister of the bride, who was escorted by the best man Alvin Wooley of Miner, brother of the groom.

Bridesmaids were Peggi Brewer and Carrie Arsta of Sikeston, cousin of the bride, and Nancy Morrow of Diehlstadt. They were escorted down the aisle by groomsmen Dan Sutton and Mark Robison of Sikeston and Mike Hare of Essex, cousin of the groom.

The girls wore identical yellow gowns of polyester voile lined with polyester and cotton. The ruffled skirt was softly gathered to bodice, above normal waist line, ont midriff, high round neckline, ruffled standup collar, short puffed sleeves and sashes that tied in back.

They wore white picture hats accented with yellow satin ribbons and big yellow flowers. They carried cascades of blue, yellow and white daisies and baby's breath.

The groom wore a tuxedo with white coat trimmed in black, black pants and white ruffled shirt trimmed in black. He wore a yellow rose boutonniere.

The bride's father, best man, groomsmen and ushers wore tuxedos with yellow coats trimmed in black, black pants and white ruffled shirts trimmed in black and wore yellow rose boutonniere.

Ushers were Mike Hare and Harold Duff, cousins of the groom.

The flower girl was Jill Martin of Blodgett, sister of the bride. Her gown was of white organza accented with ruffles, lace and yellow satin ribbon with a ribbon sash around an empire waistline. She carried a basket of daisies and baby's breath.

The ringbearer was Timmy Eifert of St. Louis, cousin of the groom. He wore a tuxedo identical to the ones worn by the men.

Candlelighters were Jeffrey Martin of Blodgett, brother of the bride, and Sandy Arsta of Sikeston cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a peach- colored, A-line, floor- length dress with long chiffon sleeves. The groom's mother wore a sleeveless, blue, A-line, floor-length dress with standup collar. Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

Miss Regina Eason attended the guestbook.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church fellowship room. Mrs. Barbara Arsta and Mrs. Jan Falkner of Sikeston, aunts of the bride, served as hostesses. They were assisted by Vicky Nall of Benton and Cindy Bollinger and Cindy Johnson of Blodgett.

The bride's table was overlined with a white cloth. A three- tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the table. The ends of the table held a silver coffee service and cut glass punch bowl. Nuts and mints were served from silver trays, and the wedding candles were held in silver candleholders.

Sophomore quarterback draws lot of praise

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — The word is circulating around Columbia that sophomore quarterback Steve Pisarkiewicz of Missouri has the best passing arm since the late Paul Christman sparkled for the Tigers 35 years ago.

Since Christman's day, Missouri has had some standout aerial artists including Terry McMillan, Tony Scardino and Gary Lane.

Pisarkiewicz has never thrown a varsity pass, but figures heavily in Coach Al Onofrio's plans for the 1974 campaign along with senior Ray Smith, who will start as long as he proves the more effective of the two.

Ask about the comparison with Missouri passing greats, Pisarkiewicz replied:

"That's a flattering comment."

Pisarkiewicz said he prefers "to throw play action passes. I like to throw short. I like to set things up with short passes and work on defenses."

Pisarkiewicz, weighing the competitive situation between himself and Smith, said he would "concede that Ray's a better runner than I am. We give each other tips."

Smith, who first started a game in Missouri's finale of the regular 1973 season and got the call again in the Sun Bowl against Auburn, asserted that "Steve throws a little harder than I do, but I won't say he throws better than I do."

Onofrio said he is "committed to playing them both. Both are pretty big, and they're both complete quarterbacks. Ray's probably a little better runner than Steve but Steve's probably got a little stronger arm than Ray."

Missouri will be extremely strong defensively, even more so than last year when the Tigers posted a 7-4 record during the regular season and gave up an average of only 12.3 points a game.

The starting defense has nine lettermen back, linebackers Lynn Evans and Scott Pickens, tiger back Steve Yount, ends Tom Garavaglia and Bob Keeney, tackles Dave Johnston and Dennis Vanarsdall, cornerback Kenney Downing and safety Tony Gillick.

Missing from the cast are cornerback John Moseley, a super punt and kickoff return specialist, and nose guard Herris Butler. Tom Cooper, a junior, will be the nose guard and Bob Brown, who lettered in 1972 and missed last season, Mosely's replacement.

"I know defensively we're much further ahead than we were last year," Onofrio said, "And we had a pretty good defense last year."

Smith and Piesarkiewicz will have capable help in the backfield in tailback Bill Ziegler, slotback Randy Grossart and fullback Ray Bybee. Bybee was named the most valuable player in Missouri's 34-17 Sun Bowl victory over Auburn.

The Tigers' most glaring weakness could be in the offensive line. Tight end Don Muse and guards Steve Sadich and Don Buck are the only returning starters. Mike Owens, the center, and Mark Miller, the split end, both earned letters.

"Offensively, I think we have the people to open the attack a little more," said Onofrio. "We're not going to fill the air with balls but I think we'll probably throw a little more this year. We have some good receivers.

"All in all, I think we'll have a good football team."

1973 record over-all—7-4.

1973 Big Eight record—3-4, fifth place.

New faces—Defensive end Dale Smith, tiger back chuck Banta, offensive tackle D. W. Johnston, quarterback Steve Pisarkiewicz.

Strengths—Excellent over-all defense, fine fullback in Ray Bybee and better than average tailback in Bill Ziegler.

Weaknesses—Questionable offensive line, placekicking, inexperience at quarterback.

Probable Big Eight finish— Third place.

Coulson raises average

Galen McSpadden and Randy Smith had unproductive performances last week for their respective Minor League baseball farm clubs. McSpadden pitched in one game without a decision and Smith lost his only appearance of the week.

McSpadden is 2-2 and has an ERA of 3.41. Smith is 12-6 with an ERA of 3.53.

Steve Coulson batted .368 for the week and raised his average to .297 for the season.

Mark Littel is on the disabled list due to arm injury.

Curtis hurls one-hit gem

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Padres are in last place but catcher Fred Kendall has had the satisfaction this season of breaking up two no- hitters in the late innings.

"He hit a good pitch. It was where I wanted it," St. Louis left- hander John Curtis, 8-12, conceded Thursday night after the Padre catcher singled home a game- tying run with two out in the eighth inning of a game the Cardinals won in the ninth, 3-1, on run-scoring singles by Jim Dwyer and Mike Tyson.

"It was a fastball inside and I guess I was looking for it," said Kendall, whose sharp hit went through the left side of the infield to score Dave Winfield. Curtis retired the first 21 batters to face him but lost his bid for a perfect game when he walked Winfield to open the eighth.

"I was very careful with Winfield because he hit a home run here to beat me 1-0 earlier this season," Curtis said.

Meantime, Kendall was remembering during the game that on May 27 in Pittsburgh, he led off the ninth inning with a single to break up Pirate lefthander Ken Brett's bid for a no-hitter.

"I wasn't too let down when Kendall got his hit," Curtis said. "I wanted the no-hitter. I started thinking about it in the fifth inning, but we're in a pennant race and the main thing was to win the game."

The victory lifted the Cardinals within a half game of first- place Pittsburgh in the National League East.

"They, the Padres, hit some balls hard, but right at people, and my outfielders made two good plays one by left fielder Lou Brock and the other by centerfielder Bake McBride.

Kendall's run- scoring single nullified a seventh-inning homer by Cardinal catcher Ted Simmons.

It was the only run given up by Padre starter Randy Jones, who allowed four hits before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning. Reliever Larry Hardy, 7-4, gave up the two deciding runs when McBride, Ken Reitz, pinch hitter Dwyer and Tyson hit successive singles with two out in the ninth.

NEW YORK — The New York Rangers acquired veteran left winger Greg Polis from the St. Louis Blues for defenseman Larry Sacharuk and a first- round selection in the 1976 or 1977 National Hockey League draft.

Watkins star of state champs

JEFFERSON CITY — John Watkins of Sikeston hurled and batted Rippeto of Jefferson City into the Regionals Fastpitch Softball Tournament this Saturday and Sunday at Springfield.

Watkins became the only pitcher in the 37- team state event to hurl a no- hitter as Rippeto beat Washington 4-0 in the semi- finals Saturday afternoon. Watkins also started the final game Sunday in the final against Savannah but was relieved in the sixth frame. Watkins had shutout the Savannah team for the first six innings.

In his no- hitter Watkins fanned eight and walked two. Washington had scored 15 runs in its previous three games. In addition to hurling the no- hitter Watkins knocked in three of the four runs.

Kelso and New Hamburg had been eliminated earlier but New Hamburg's elimination wasn't due to loss of games. It was due to the use of a player who had participated in the Missouri Men's Slow Pitch softball tournament last week in St. Joseph.

This marked the second consecutive year that Jefferson City Rippeto Carpets has won the state tournament and John Watkins has pitched for the team both years.

The Cape Girardeau Jets is the only other team to win two consecutive state titles and Watkins hurled for them in 1960-61. John has played for a total of seven state winners.

Rippeto faces St. Louis Browns Friday night at 9:30 in the Mid- Central Regional Tournament at Springfield.

The tournament commences at 6:30 Friday night and concludes Monday, Sept. 2.

A DODGE DART CAN GET MORE MILES PER GALLON THAN NOVA OR MAVERICK.
In a recent USAC "Miles-Per-Gallon Showdown," a Dodge Dart Sport averaged better than 27 mpg over a 972-mile highway run (Phoenix to L.A., round trip) at an average speed of 53 mph. The Nova and Maverick in the test couldn't match that. Of course, the mileage you'll get depends on many factors including how and where you drive and the condition of your vehicle.
A DART SPORT HAS MORE TOTAL HIPROOM THAN A MAVERICK AND MORE TRUNK SPACE THAN EITHER THREE PINTOS OR THREE GREMLINS.
EVERY DART COMES STANDARD WITH THE MONEY-SAVING ELECTRONIC IGNITION SYSTEM (WITH NO POINTS OR CONDENSER TO GET WET OR WEAR OUT).

Young Bulldogs at Portageville

PORTAGEVILLE — Sophomores and Juniors are going to be the main factor in the success of the Portageville Bulldog's football team this year. Of the 29 football players who reported to Coach Jim McKay this season only five were seniors. Fifteen lettermen returned. Two players who would have possibly been starting backs didn't report for practice.

Coach McKay feels that the players attitudes are good and he will be playing more boys this year than before. McKay feels that around 25 of his players will be getting a lot of game action this season.

Two second team all-conference players are returning. Lavonne Fountain at Defensive End and Hank Workman at Quarterback. Workman was only a sophomore last year and he will probably be in the quarterback position again. Ronnie Hooser another Junior is giving Hank some competition this year for the starting spot. Workman will probably have three sophomores behind him in the backfield. Tommy Dial a Junior halfback has been very impressive so far in practice. Coach McKay will continue to use the wishbone offense and since Workman is an experienced quarterback. they will throw the ball a lot more than last year.

Glen Graham, Walter Ace and Randy Hooser will be starting linemen. Graham and Ace are Seniors. The Bulldog's will again show a five man front, stacked type of defense again this year.

McKay feels that this year he really wants to build depth into his football machine. With all the sophomores and juniors on the team the more game experience the better the future outlook of the Bulldog's.

Portageville was 5-5 last season and Coach McKay is making no predictions this year. He did say that Dexter or Hayti were probably the best in the conference.

Seasonal Growth

Each spring and summer, a tree adds new layers of wood to its trunk. The wood formed in spring grows fast and is lighter because it consists of large cells while growth is slower in the summer causing darker wood of smaller cells. When a tree is cut, the layers appear as alternating rings of light and dark wood.

BLOOMFIELD — Elbert Lavern Parden, 17, of Essex was bound over to Circuit Court Thursday, following a preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court before Judge Koss W. Blomeyer. on a charge of tampering with a motor vehicle.

First Assembly to host soloist

First Assembly of God Church, 306 S. Kingshighway, will host an evening of sacred music with Gloria Elliot, former soloist for the Revivaltime International Radio Choir of the Assemblies of God, Sunday at 7 p.m., according to the Rev. Loren Wooten, pastor.

Reared in a minister's home in Virginia, Miss Elliot began singing publicly at the age of four. When she was 19, she came to Missouri to attend Central Bible College at Springfield.

That very year, in 1967, she first became a member of the Revivaltime choir. For the next four years, she continued with the choir and shared her mellow alto voice in the recording of four long-play albums with the choir. She now records on the Impact/Tempo Label and has continued to share her ministry in music with

This week's Uniform INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Dr. William H. Taft

FOR SEPTEMBER 1, 1974

Scripture: Genesis 1-3

GOD'S PURPOSE FOR MAN

For the next six months these lessons will concern the Creation, man's relations with God, and God's relations with man. It will be a review of the beginnings of this world.

Many debates occur over the interpretations of the start of this universe. The Bible relates the day-by-day activities of God, yet it doesn't describe how long a day was.

Unfortunately, too many persons even now fail to realize that the process of creation continues today. And with this continuous creation, man acquires more and more problems, many quite difficult to solve.

Generally, we agree on three major points:

First, God created man.

Second, God created man in His physical and spiritual likeness, desiring him to be perfect as God is perfect.

Third, God gave man dominion over the world.

William King wrote in 1702 that "God might, indeed, have refrained from creating, and continued alone, self-sufficient, and perfect to all eternity; but His infinite Goodness would by no means allow it."

Creation certainly is a more significant event than destruction. And self-fulfillment is measured in terms of what man has become and can be under God.

There are those who encounter doubts about the Creation story. One such person was answered by John Calvin in 1563 when he wrote:

"When a certain shameless fellow mockingly asked a pious old man what God had done before the Creation of the world, the latter aptly countered that He had been building hell for the curious."

Man has been given the privilege to enjoy this world along with the responsibility to conserve the blessings. At the present time, man hasn't done too well with the latter.

God must be disturbed with our treatment of the water, soil, air, and other elements in this polluted world. Such treatment of our blessings hardly can be appreciated by the Creator.

"The end of creation is that all things may return to the Creator and be united with Him," wrote Emmanuel Swedenborg in 1763. Many young people today express a desire that their fellowmen live in integrity before God.

God asked us to obey certain rules. He realized that His people could not remain perfect. The Bible is full of stories of what follows when we fail to obey His directions.

God established high standards for us. If membership in His world required little from us, it would hardly be worth the everlasting life He has promised His believers.

When we disobey God we are punished although the results may not be known for years. This may be seen in our courts today with the long time between arrest and trial.

Adam and Eve were punished for their sin. When we decide to set our own standards and go our own way, we sacrified our chances to be with God.

Adam and Eve gave up their place in the Garden of Eden. Today, many persons must leave their high standards of living and seek poorer accommodations after they have sinned. The price we pay can become quite expensive.

There are times when all of us ask ourselves why we are here. What is the major purpose for each of us?

Some persons will serve God. Some will take time to evaluate their motives and goals, placing their future in God's hands. Others will continue to go their own way, lacking any goal or any real purpose in life.

Throughout this series of lessons we must always return to our personal situation. God created us because He wanted to, not because he was forced to.

In the end God will recall His many creations. The major challenge we will meet is this: How will we be judged by the Inspector?

President Ford and the quiet return of religion

By David Poling

The departure of Richard M. Nixon from the White House will occupy political analysts for the remainder of the year and historians for the rest of the century. Since the matters of church and state still control our society, it is appropriate to consider the impact of President Gerald R. Ford — in religion as well as politics.

It is apparent to many Americans that the new President is a man of deep personal convictions, a serious member of the Episcopal Church, and is willing to make prayer and public life a natural experience. His references to the Almighty in his first addresses were not the suggestions of a speech writer but the normal affirmations of a spiritual personality. His first weekend in office found President Ford not in some entertainment center in Florida or California — but attending his neighborhood Church in suburban Maryland. It is the opinion of many who know this man from Michigan that his occupancy of the White House will mark a quiet return of the religious dimension — not only in Washington but across the United States.

Consider these clues. Of all the associations, organizations and groups to which Gerald Ford has belonged in his 20 years of public life, a congressional prayer group has been his most determined priority. The new President reflects the deep piety that is nourished and sustained in so many Michigan households. Indeed, one of his sons is presently preparing for the ministry at Gordon-Conwell Seminary. The concerns of church and Bible and the Christian life are familiar to this family and their friends.

With this background, what sort of changes should we anticipate in the affairs of church and state? For a president, by neglect or enthusiasm, hostility or cordiality, does affect the religious atmosphere in the United States.

1) Look for an end to the formal worship services in the White House. Nothing was more irritating to the religious community of North America than the Sunday services held for an "invited" audience, a command performance of President Nixon. Apologists argued that the Secret Service wanted this, it was easier to handle security. Whatever, President Ford and his family will move out of this religious imprisonment and reinstate the public attendance at church that every other president has followed.

2) Just as this administration has declared an open and honest style of leadership in the matters of state, so will the channels be extended to the dozens of churchmen of every denomination and faith to hear their concerns, answer their inquiries, and seek their counsel. The Nixon administration, and the last years of the Johnson, saw an almost complete put down of church leaders and religious issues. Vietnam was the reason, but now a new beginning will do much to restore a balance in these matters.

Almost 20 years ago, overlooking the Hudson River at Morningside Heights, a new building was being dedicated. Some two dozen denominations and church groups would inhabit this New York skyscraper. The largest tenant was to be the National Council of Churches, with the World Council taking an entire floor.

As the impressive cermonies came to an end, Dwight David Eisenhower stepped forward and the cornerstone of the Interchurch Center was laid by the 34th President of the United States. For a man of faith and in touch with the spiritual life of the people, it was a normal, natural event to share.

With Gerald Ford we will see the quiet but forceful return of the religious dimension.

Rebel priest defies modernized liturgy

SANDERSTEAD, England (AP) — By staying the same, the Rev. Peter John Morgan has become a "different" style of priest in the present-day Roman Catholic Church.

He wears a cassock, a black flat hat, speaks a dead language, venerates a four-centuries-dead pope and defies the wishes of the present pontiff, Pope Paul VI.

In a changing world, Father Morgan refuses to change. Rejecting the modernized liturgy and defying Vatican directives to put it in local languages, he sticks to the traditional Mass in Latin.

He has counterparts scattered around the world, including the United States — traditionalists who have, by not changing, become rebels in a church that changed.

The traditionalists are willing to spend time, energy and money for their cause. And there are thousands of them, here and there, who don't like the new ways.

Supporters of Father Morgan provide him with a house here on the outskirts of London, pay him a salary with expenses to freewheel over southern England to say the old Mass.

Many are ready to drive miles for his hour-long ceremony on any day of the week.

To publicize their campaign, they've formed a society and advertise on a poster that "The traditional Roman Catholic Mass is now widely available again."

Father Morgan, English-born, looks older than his 34 years. He is round-faced, portly under his ankle-length black cassock, talks incessantly, is rapid in speech and quick of movement. He speaks English, French, Italian and Latin.

"Yes, I am young," he said in an interview, "but there is no one else to do it. I have tried to unite the traditionalists. The Church must retain its dignity."

Father Morgan started his clerical career in the Church of England and went to Australia on missionary work among the Aborigines in northern Queensland. He was converted to the Roman Catholic Church in 1963 — "a gift of faith," he said.

To a question of why the apparently simple matter of the form and language of the Mass should be disturbing the mighty, 600-million strong Church, Father Morgan replied:

Over $2,500 has been contributed by 40 Vacation Church Schools in Missouri -- including $64.09 by the Sikeston Ecumenical Church School -- to provide milk for children and tools for self- help projects around the world, in cooperationwith the Missouri Council of Churches.

Revival set Sept. 15-22 by New Madrid church

NEW MADRID — Revival services will be conducted Sept. 15-22 in the New Madrid Baptist Church, 1240 Scott St.

The Rev. Nick Harris of Halls, Tenn., will be the evangelist, and Raymond Richerson of Jackson, Tenn., will be the song leader.

Services will begin on Sept. 15 at 7:30 p.m. and continue through the 10:30 a.m. worship service on Sept. 22.

The Rev. Mr. Harris received his higher education at Union University in Jackson, Tenn., and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Tex. He has pastored for 13 years in churches throughout Tennessee and Texas and has led revivals throughout the South and Southwest, as well as a number of family life conferences. He also has spoken to large youth assemblies.

He is married and has three children, and is presently pastor of First Baptist Church in Halls.

Richerson received his education at Union University and seminaries in New Orleans, La., and Louisville, Ky. He has a daily radio program in Jackson and often appears on television and in sacred concerts. He was also the soloist for the pastor's conference at the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlantic City, N. J., in 1964.

THE BIBLE

150. God's Message To David

When peace finally came upon the land, and Israel was not at war with the neighboring nations, David proposed to Nathan that they erect a majestic temple to house the Ark of the Covenant, for it was still placed in a tent. Nathan heartily agreed and encouraged King David in the plan.

However, that night the Lord spoke to Nathan and told him to inform David that he should not build a temple for the ark, for the ark had been housed in a tent since the time that Israel was delivered from Egypt. The Lord also promised that David's family would reign over Israel perpetually.

Nathan dutifully relayed God's message to David, and David, his heart overflowing with worshipful joy, went before the Lord and prayed a splendid prayer of Thanksgiving, concluding "Therefore now let it please thee to bless the house of thy servant, that it may continue for ever before thee: for thou O Lord God, has spoken it; and with thy blessing let the house of thy servant be blessed for ever." HAYTI — Gene Parsons of Branson Construction Company in Poplar Bluff is the apparent low bidder for the construction of the Hayti Heights water and sewer system.

The bid of $310,697.50 was submitted to the Hayti Heights City Council Tuesday night, and is expected to be formally accepted within the next two weeks, pending approval of the Environmental Protection Agency, which has alloted the Pemiscot County community a $350,000 grant for the project.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — U.S. Representative Bill D. Burlison, of Missouri's 10th Congressional District, has announced that the Department of Housing and Urban Development has awarded a grant in the amount of $98,050 to the Charleston Housing Authority. Pre-enrollment date set for day care

CHARLESTON — The Mississippi County Child Development Center is conducting pre-enrollment to determine the number of parents wishing to place their children in the proposed day care center at the Lincoln Community Center in Charleston.

Pre-enrollment applications will be used to supply information necessary to get funding from various sources.

The day care center will be open to children of working parents who are between the ages of three and five and who are toilet trained.

Cost for a day's care will be based on a sliding scale depending on the family's income. The maximum cost will be $3.50 a day.

The day care center will provide the children with educational as well as play experiences. The children will also be served breakfast, a hot noon meal and an afternoon snack if they are enrolled for full day care. The center will open at 6:30 a.m. and will close at 4:30 p.m.

The pre-enrollment application is not the final admission application for the center. When funding has been approved, a more detailed admission application will be necessary but those filling out pre-enrollment applications will be given priority. This application does not commit a parent to enroll his child in the day care center.

Applications may be picked up at the Urban Renewal office and the DAEOC centers in Charleston, the County Welfare Office in East Prairie, Wilson City, City Hall, Bertrand City Hall and at Raffety's Store in Wyatt. You can contact Fred Gordon (683-4683) or Pat Goulson (683-2250) for further information.

Applications should be turned in by Sept. 12 at the Urban Renewal Office in Charleston or sent to Pat Goulson, 709 Gail St. Charleston.

CHARLESTON — Charleston has been selected as a Bicentennial City and will participate in the year- long celebration of the 200th birthday of our country, according to an announcement received this week from the Missouri Bicentennial Commission.

Dr. Robert L. Frazier has been appointed chairman of the local commission and Mrs. Velna Brown will serve as secretary.

The Bicentennial Commission was established by the federal government in 1966. Each state has a separate commission which selects cities to be accepted as a Bicentennial city.

In a meeting at City Hall Tuesday night called by the chairman, representatives of civic clubs and organizations selected Oct. 4 as the date for the presentation of the Bicentennial Flag. This date has been approved by the Missouri commission.

Additional details of the many activities scheduled for the celebration will be announced later.

What's the law?

By JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.

Night watchman Willie was making his rounds through a factory when he suddenly heard the frantic barking of his pet dog, Murray. It seemed that Murray, not too surefooted anyway, had fallen into a river that flowed past the factory.

Flipping off his jacket, Willie dived into the icy waters to effect a rescue. As it developed, however, Murray proved to be a better swimmer than floundering Willie. While the paddling canine managed to reach shore unassisted, waterlogged Willie had to be hauled out of the drink just as he was going down for the proverbial third time.

Soggy and unable to report to work for a long time, Willie applied for a Workman's Compensation award.

"Sorry," he was told, "but your being laid up is not the result of your employment. Diving into a river to rescue a dog was not part of your job."

"You're wrong," was Willie's answer. "A night watchman without a dog is like bacon without eggs. He helps make the rounds and, in truth, is a sniffing co- worker. Consequently, in attempting to rescue Murray, I was performing a duty owed to any fellow employe."

Denied the award, Willie doggedly took the matter to court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you grant Willie a Workman's Compensation award?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that a dog is not considered a night watchman's fellow worker. Therefore, concluded the judge, Willie had no duty to dive into the river to rescue Murray – particularly when he should have realized that Murray was in no danger of drowning to begin with.

"When my son said 'nuclear expert', I thought he meant graduate school. He meant joining the Navy!"

Mr. J. Jarabek, Lake Oswego, Oregon.

"At first I was surprised", remembers Mr. Jarabek, "because I'd never heard of joining the Navy to get nuclear training. Then I found out that more than 70% of the nuclear reactors in the country today are operated by Navy men."

This year, the Navy will again accept about 200 outstanding college graduates for its Nuclear Propulsion Officer Candidate (NUPOC) Program. Those who get in will have the chance to become experts in the field of nuclear power—through a training program designed specifically by the Navy and proven successful.

Could your son make it?

Because nuclear training is one of the toughest programs in the Navy, he must have a solid foundation in engineering, mathematics or physics. He must be able to handle advanced technology, learning all aspects of nuclear plant theory and operation at a rapid pace. And of course, he must demonstrate the qualities which typify an officer in the U.S. Navy.

Once in the program, your son will be well-paid for the ability and dedication it requires. Starting salary in the Nuclear Program is comparable with salaries given to junior executives by private companies—and career advancement opportunities are outstanding.

If your son is still in college, it's even better for him. If he qualifies and is selected for the program right now, we start paying him (over $500 a month) during his senior year in college.

What do you think? Does Navy nuclear training sound like the kind of program your son could qualify for—or be interested in? If so, mail the coupon below. Or call the Nuclear Desk (toll-free) at 800-841-8000 anytime. The Navy

Claude Akins stars as Sonny Pruett, a veteran trucker, part Daniel Boone, part George Patton and 100 per cent John Wayne, who "carries anything, anywhere, anytime anyone pays." Frank Converse stars as Will Chandler, part idealist, part cynic, a law school graduate who doesn't believe in absolutes and turns to the truckers's vagabond life to find out about himself.

Traveling to where the job pays – one day Seattle, another day Denver – they run into their share of scrapes, though both can take care of themselves. Using the open road as a proving ground, each cautiously accepts the other, admitting to himself a certain respect for the other's style of life.

"Movin' On" is produced by D'Antoni-Weitz Television Productions, Inc., in association with NBC-TV. Joe Gantman is producer.

William F. Storke, Vice President, Special Programs, NBC-TV, said: "This is by no means a complete list of stars or specials. But it is representative of our planning and an indication of our commitment to make 1974-75 the most ambitious season for this network in the history of specials -- a programming form which NBC-TV pioneered 20 years ago.

"A capsule of the quality, diversity and star power of our specials is seen in some of the shows scheduled for presentation just prior to Premiere Week: Henry Fonda in 'Clarence Darrow' on Sept. 4; 'Peggy Fleming Visits the Soviet Union' Sept. 5; the first of the 'Sandburg's Lincoln' specials with Hal Holbrook as Lincoln on Sept. 6; the Miss American Pageant and an Andy Williams show on Sept. 7.

Peggy Fleming fans will get a chance to see her again when her acclaimed special, "Peggy Fleming Visits the Soviet Union," in which the skating star shares the spotlight with top Soviet artists, will be colorcast once more as a "Bell System Family Theatre" attraction Thursday, Sept. 5 (7-8 p.m. CDT).

"Blessed is he who has found his work; let him ask no other blessedness. His is the greatest of all."

—Thomas Carlyle

Labor, said a wise man, preserves us from three great evils ... weariness, vice and want. It also serves as an excellent measure of strength and prosperity ... especially when a nation's people are independent and proud of earning a fair day's wage for a fair day's work. Today, we take time time from our jobs to pay our grateful tribute to the American ethic that dignifies honest labor and knows that work is love made visible.
